Thirty-sixth Meeting

Page 4. MF. Evans' remarks:

Change the next to last sentence to read :

"... Otherwise the working party would be operating without knowing whether or not the most important aspect of the Cuban claim had a proper legal foundation."

Change the third sentence to read:

"... The United States Delegation was prepared, if requested, to show that they were not serious. Moreover, he wished to point out that the United States had invited the Cuban delegation to discuss the United States offers to acceding countries which involved margins of preference, but that successful discussions had not been possible because the Cuban delegation had insisted on the acceptance by the United States of their claim that they had a legal right to a veto based on Article XXX, a claim to which the United States could not agree."
