paragraph should read :

"Certainly we shall have amendments to propose, and this morning quite a number of those who spoke indicated that they would have amendments to propose; but it does not follow that there will not be whole sections of the United States draft in its present form which will pass through the Committee stage, perhaps unamended; they may be almost entirely unobjectionable in form and in substance; and to the extent that they are and to the extent that we are able to agree on them, we are to that extent writing sections of some thing that might ultimately be a charter."
