Other restrictions
Boycott	-	Israel	In addition to maintaining a direct boycott on all trade relations with Israel, Algeria operates a secondary boycott against commercial enterprises of other contracting parties maintaining business, trade, or communications with Israel. When such enterprises desire to do business with Algeria they are pressed, under threat of official black-listing, to sever their relations with Israel. The threat of black-listing is also frequently applied to enterprises which have no present commercial relations with Israel. An elaborate system of supervision of, and interference with, such third country enterprises is maintained. The declared purpose of this policy is to do injury to the economy of Israel. In its implementation the interests of third countries are also adversely affected.
