

Ana Yaluff

Head of Sustainability, EMEA

Ana leads ADM's sustainability efforts in the EMEA region. In her role, she support business units to drive transformation through the sustainability initiatives and engage with stakeholders

She joined ADM in 2010, building her experience in within the Sustainability area in the food industry. She has developed strong expertise in the ESG related topics, sustainable agriculture, commodities supply chain and supporting community development efforts.

She holds a Master in International Economics from Sorbonne Nouvelle University in Paris, France, a Postgraduate Certificate in Sustainable Value Chains from Cambridge Institute for Sustainability and a Bachelor degree in Agricultural Science and Rural Development from Asuncion National University in Paraguay.

