

Ryan Petersen is the founder and CEO of Flexport, the technology platform for global logistics. Under his leadership, Flexport has grown to over 2,500 employees across 18 global offices and $3.3B in annual revenue. Companies of all sizes—from emerging brands to Fortune 500s—used Flexport technology to move nearly $19B of merchandise across 112 countries in 2021. Prior to starting Flexport, Ryan was the founder and CEO of ImportGenius, a premier provider of transaction data for the global trade industry. He has invested in more than 100 high growth technology companies including SpaceX, Robinhood, Anduril, Verkada, Checkr, Rippling, Lambda School, Newfront, Padlet, and Expanse. He earned a BA from UC Berkeley and an MBA from Columbia Business School.