Introduction

This publication concerns the legal instruments drawn up by WTO Members in relation to the Marrakesh Agreement Establishing the World Trade Organization (WTO Agreement) and the Multi- and Plurilateral Trade Agreements annexed to that Agreement.

The Director-General of the WTO, in his capacity as depositary, notifies Members of the signatures affixed, the deposit of instruments of ratification, acceptance, accession, and withdrawal, the entry into force of WTO treaty instruments, and the various notifications, communications, declarations and reservations received from Members. This publication represents a consolidated compilation of these data for each WTO treaty instrument.

This 2021 edition updates the contents of the previous edition and has several new features, including an expanded, comprehensive summary of the establishment of the WTO and the evolution of its legal instruments. Since the May 2019 cut-off date of the previous edition, the United Kingdom extended the application of the ratification of the WTO Agreement to the Bailiwicks of Guernsey and Jersey, for whose international relations the United Kingdom is responsible; the United Kingdom became a Party, in its own right, to the Agreement on Government Procurement (GPA); and the 1994 GPA was replaced by the Amended GPA, following Switzerland’s acceptance of the 2012 Protocol Amending the GPA. This new edition reflects these developments, as well as modifications to schedules, accessions to Plurilateral Trade Agreements, and acceptances of protocols, among other treaty actions. Hyperlinks have been embedded within each GATT and WTO document symbol and each UNTS and UN registration reference, allowing readers to access the selected document with a single click.

After the full title, particulars are given for each WTO treaty instrument regarding its entry into force and, where applicable, its registration with the United Nations. In addition, reference is made to publications containing the text of the instrument, as well as other relevant official documents containing depositary notifications generally relating to the instrument in question.

The entry into force of WTO treaty instruments and the procedure regarding signature, acceptance, ratification, accession, etc., are governed by the final clauses of each instrument. As most of these provisions have a direct bearing on the information provided, the relevant final clauses of each instrument have been reproduced.
Parties to each instrument are listed under the headings "Acceptance" or "Accession." "Acceptance" covers signatures and acceptances by Members. "Accession" refers to those Members that acceded to the instrument.

"Communications", "declarations" and "reservations" made by Members upon acceptance or accession are reproduced immediately below the name of the Member concerned. Procès-verbaux concerning the inclusion of specific goods and services schedules into the WTO Agreement are addressed in dedicated pages, whereas procès-verbaux rectifying typographical or technical corrections are referred to in footnotes. References are also made to the official documents containing depositary notifications relevant to each treaty act.

The cut-off date for information included in this publication is 24 March 2021.

Endnotes

1 Pursuant to Article 76.2 of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties (Vienna Convention), the functions of the depositary of a treaty are international in character and the depositary is under the obligation to perform them impartially. In turn, Article 77 of the Vienna Convention lists the functions of depositaries.

2 Under Articles XIV.3 and XIV.4 of the WTO Agreement, the Director-General of the WTO acts as depositary of the WTO Agreement, and the Multi- and Plurilateral Trade Agreements annexed thereto. As established by the Decision of the General Council of 31 January 1995, following the termination of the legal instruments through which the contracting parties applied the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade 1947 (GATT 1947), the Director-General of the WTO performs the depositary functions of the Director-General of the GATT 1947 (WT/L/36). The functions of depositaries under international treaty law are set forth in Part VII (Depositaries, Notifications, Corrections and Registration) of the Vienna Convention on the Law of Treaties.

7 Under Article 2.1(b) of the Vienna Convention, “‘acceptance’ ... and ‘accession’ mean in each case the international act so named whereby a State establishes on the international plane its consent to be bound by a treaty.” In the context of this publication, “acceptance” refers to the act of an original or existing WTO Member or party to a WTO plurilateral trade agreement expressing its consent to be bound by a WTO treaty instrument, whereas “accession” refers specifically to the act of a new WTO Member expressing its consent to be bound by a WTO accession protocol, or of a new party to a WTO plurilateral agreement expressing its consent to be bound by such an agreement. “Acceptance” and “accession” are governed by specific provisions of the relevant WTO treaties and treaty instruments, which are reproduced in the corresponding sections of this publication.
