III. Technical annexes

A. Regional Trade Agreements

The increasing number of regional trade agreements (RTAs) negotiated by countries in recent years underlines the importance countries place on these RTAs. Selected information on RTAs by country is presented in the tables below.

RTAs notified to the WTO by WTO members

WTO members who enter into such agreements depart from the non-discrimination principle defined in the GATT and the GATS but are permitted under three sets of rules:

- Paragraphs 4 to 10 of Article XXIV of GATT 1994 (as clarified in the Understanding on the Interpretation of Article XXIV of the GATT 1994) provide for the formation and operation of customs unions and free-trade areas covering trade in goods, and interim agreements leading to one or the other;
- Paragraph 2(c) of the so-called Enabling Clause (i.e., the 1979 Decision on Differential and More Favourable Treatment, Reciprocity and Fuller Participation of Developing Countries) refers to regional or global arrangements among developing country Members for the mutual reduction or elimination of tariffs on products imported from one another; and
- Article V of GATS governs RTAs in the area of trade in services, for both developed and developing country Members.

In addition, the Transparency Mechanism[1] – negotiated in the Negotiating Group on Rules and established under the Doha Development Agenda through a Decision by the WTO General Council – provides for the early announcement of any RTA. Each of the above mentioned sets of rules provide for the notification of RTAs to the WTO.

The parties to an RTA can notify several types of RTAs:

1. A Free Trade Agreement (FTA), as defined in Paragraph 8(b) of Article XXIV of GATT 1994;
2. A Customs Union (CU), as defined in Paragraph 8(a) of Article XXIV of GATT 1994;
3. An Economic Integration Agreement (EIA), as defined in Article V of GATS; or
4. A "Partial Scope" Agreement (PS). "Partial Scope" which is not defined or referred to in the WTO Agreement, means that the agreement covers only certain products. Partial scope agreements are notified under paragraph 4(a) of the Enabling Clause.

Information on RTAs notified to the WTO among WTO members as well as between WTO Members and non-Members is available in the RTA database, http://rtais.wto.org which is the source of the data for Technical Annex A. Statistics shown in the tables are as of 24 September 2013.

Table A1. Number of Regional trade agreements (RTAs) notified and in force by WTO Members (including RTAs with non-WTO Members)

Description of column headings

Column heading	Description
Country/Territory	Name of WTO member signatory to the RTA
Goods notifications (RTA)	Notified RTAs that cover agreements in trade in goods
Services notifications (Economic Integration Agreement)	Notified RTAs that cover trade in services commonly referred to as Economic Integration Agreements
Physical RTAs	WTO statistics on RTAs are based on notification requirements rather than on physical number of RTAs. Thus, an RTA that includes both goods and services counts as two notifications (one for goods and the other services), even though it is physically one RTA. This column gives the actual number of distinct physical RTAs (i.e., no double counting).

Table A2. Tariff elimination in Regional Trade Agreements (RTAs) at the MFN level, at entry into force and at the preferential level, at the end of the implementation period

Description of column headings

Column heading	Description
RTA	Name of the RTA. The list includes only RTAs considered under the Transparency Mechanism[1] and for which a Factual Presentation has been prepared by the WTO Secretariat and the RTA considered in the Committee on RTA or the Committee on Trade and Development. The list excludes RTAs pertaining to EU enlargements and the South African Customs Union (SACU). An asterisk (*) denotes an agreement under the Enabling Clause.
Party	Party to the RTA
Entry into force	Date of entry into force of the RTA
Phase-out period	Start year and end year of the implementation of the tariff reduction agreement
Duty Free Tariff Lines (% of Total)	MFN at entry into force	Percentage of MFN duty free national tariff lines in the tariff schedule of the country/party to the RTA at the start of the entry into force of the agreement. The statistic is presented for the total tariff schedule and also by sectorial breakdown into AG and Non-AG. This is the basis for the tariff reduction in the agreement. In quota tariff lines are excluded in the calculation.
	Preferential tariff at the end of implementation period	Percentage of duty free national tariff lines in the preferential tariff schedule of the country/party to the RTA offered to the other country/party to the RTA at the end of the implementation date of the agreement. The statistic is presented for the total preferential tariff schedule and also by sectorial breakdown into AG and Non-AG. In quota tariff lines are excluded in the calculation.
