ANTONIO NUCIFORA

PRACTICE MANAGER FOR THE TRADE AND REGIONAL INTEGRATION GLOBAL UNIT

WORLD BANK

Antonio Nucifora is the Practice Manager for the Trade and Regional Integration Global Unit at the World Bank. His team is responsible to guide Bank's work on trade policy, regional integration, trade facilitation, logistics and connectivity, and help set the Bank's agenda and priorities on trade issues. Before taking this position, Mr Nucifora was the Lead Economist for Brazil, based in Brasilia, and coordinated the World Bank macroeconomic policy and the economic policy advice to the Government of Brazil. Since joining the Bank in January 2002, he has worked on Central and Eastern European countries, Sub-Saharan Africa, the Middle East and North Africa, and Latin American countries. Nucifora holds a Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Oxford, where he was also a Rhodes Scholar, and a Masters in Economics from the London School of Economics (LSE). At the LSE he also received his Bachelor Degree in economics and international trade and development.
