

TRADE FOR PEACE WEEK

30 November – 4 December 2020

SCOTT M. WEBER

PRESIDENT OF INTERPEACE

Scott M. Weber is the President of Interpeace.

Interpeace is an international peacebuilding organization and a strategic partner of the United Nations. Originally created in 1994 within the United Nations, Interpeace aims to strengthen the capacities of societies to manage conflict in non-violent ways and to assist the international community to play a more effective role in supporting peace efforts around the world.

As President, Mr. Weber is responsible for strategy, positioning and resource mobilization to grow the organization's impact, influence and reach. Prior to joining Interpeace, Mr. Weber worked in the Office of the United Nations Director-General in Geneva and in disaster preparedness.
