Commencement and Continuance of Rights

Article 34:

Rights set forth under paragraph (2) of Article 33 of the present law shall commence beginning with the date on which application for the registration of the exclusive right in respect of the patent has been submitted in Afghanistan and shall be valid for a duration of 20 years following the date on which the original exclusive right in respect of the patent has been registered.

Compulsory Licensing Modus Operandi

Article 35:

1) Where a registered invention or discovery is not worked, or insufficiently worked, in Afghanistan during a period of four years from the date of filing of the patent application, or three years from the date of the grant of the patent, whichever period expires last, the pertinent office may issue a compulsory license to an applicant who has met the requirements set out in this Article. Importation of the patented product shall constitute working for purposes of this Article.

~~1) Where the registered Invention or Discovery is not used generally or specifically with the modus operandi thereof in its place of origin or in Afghanistan after being imported, the pertinent office may, after a lapse of 4 years following submission of an application for registration or upon a lapse of 3 years following the date on which its has been registered, issue a Compulsory License.~~

2) Where the right holder demonstrates to the pertinent office that his failure to work, or insufficient working, of the invention or discovery registered in Afghanistan was due to legitimate reasons, a compulsory license may not be issued.

~~2) The Compulsory License shall be issued with due observance of the following conditions:~~

~~1— Determining limits of the use of the license.~~

~~2— Determining the duration within which the holder of the license will commence use of the invention or discovery.~~

~~3— Fixing the amount of money payable to the owner of the exclusive right and payment conditions thereof.~~

~~3) The compulsory license shall be issued with due observance of the following conditions:~~

~~1- The applicant demonstrates that he has made efforts to obtain authorization from the right holder on reasonable commercial terms and conditions, and that such efforts have not been successful within a reasonable period of time.~~

~~2- The pertinent office considers the application for authorization on its individual merits.~~

~~3) Where the owner of exclusive right in respect of a patent convinces the relevant office by giving reasons by non-use or insufficient use of the invention or Discovery being registered in Afghanistan, in that case the Compulsory License shall not be issued.~~

~~4) The compulsory license shall be non-exclusive and non-assignable, and shall specify the following:~~

~~1- the scope and duration of the authorized use, which shall be limited to the purpose for which the use was authorized;~~

~~2- an authorization for use predominantly for the supply of the market inside Afghanistan;~~

~~3- the amount and payment conditions of fees payable to the right holder. Payment shall be adequate under the circumstances and shall take into account the economic value of the license.~~

~~4) The user of the Compulsory License shall, in accordance with the terms set forth in the permit, have the right to use the invention or Discovery being registered in Afghanistan.~~

~~5) A compulsory license issued under this Article shall be liable to termination, subject to adequate protection of the legitimate interests of the authorized party, when the circumstances justifying the license cease to exist and are unlikely to recur. The continued existence of such circumstances shall be subject to review by the pertinent authority upon request by any interested party.~~

~~6) Decisions on issuance of a compulsory license under this Article, including decisions relating to payments, shall be subject to appeal to [designated independent judicial authority].5) The Compulsory License provided for under paragraph (2) of the present Article shall be issued upon payment of a fixed fee.~~

Supplement to Application

Article 36:

A certified copy of the exclusive right in respect of the patent and its pertinent specifications shall be attached to the application for registration with due observance of the provision set forth under Article 9 of the present Act. Where the certified copy is in the English language, its precise translation in one of the official languages of the country shall, after being certified, also be attached.

Publication of the Application

Article 37:

The relevant office shall, after confirming the application for registration of the exclusive right in respect of a foreign Invention, be required to publish information pertaining to the exclusive right in the media prior to registration thereof.

Chapter 5

Judicial Decisions

Protest

Article 38:

Any protest based on the ownership right concerning the application for registration of a patent shall only be accepted when the person filing the protest also applies for registration of the patent in his own name in accordance with the provisions of the present Law.

Addressing of the Protest

Article 39:

Where the notice of the Protest is filed in respect of the Patent Form before or after the registration thereof, the person filing the notice of Protest shall be required to deposit an amount to be determined by a competent court as a guarantee into a special account with the bank and shall attach the voucher thereof to the notice of the protest.

Where the Protester fails to prove his claim, the damages incurred as the result thereof shall be compensated from the guarantee amount, and if not so, he shall be required to compensate the defendant for the entire amount of damages. And where the protest is proved, the protester shall be eligible for compensation of the damages that he incurred.

Pre-registration Protest

Article 40:

1) A written protest concerning an unregistered patent shall, taking in consideration the following points, be filed with the relevant office:

- 1- Full name and address of the protester in the country.
- 2- A statement of reasons and proof why the protester considers himself eligible.
- 3- Copies of the documents to prove the claim of the protester.

2) The relevant office shall be required to furnish the protester with a receipt for the protest bearing the date on which the protest has been received.

Post-registration Protest

Article 41:

An applicant for rebuttal of the registered patent to the following attachments shall be submitted to the relevant office:

- 1- A document certified by the office pertaining to the patent Form the rebuttal of which has been requested
- 2- The original or copy of the substantiating documents pertaining to the claim of the protester.
- 3- A power of attorney where proceedings of the case have been submitted by the legal representative of the inventor or discoverer.

Communicating the Protest

Article 42:

1) The relevant office shall, within (10) days after receiving the protest, send it to the address of the person applying for registration or to his legal representative, and where the protest has been proved, the application for registration of the patent shall be rejected.

2) Unless the circumstance set forth in paragraph (1) of the present Article where the patent has already been registered, in this case the previous registration shall be rendered null and void and the patent shall be registered in the name of the protester.

Rebuttal

Article 43:

1) Where the person applying for registration deems the protest of the protester to be justified, he shall communicate the issue to the protester in writing and his application shall be rejected.

2) Where the disputed patent has not already been registered, it shall, in accordance with the provision set forth under Article 40 of the present Law, be registered taking in account the protestor's application being submitted at the time of making the protest.

3) Where the disputed patent having already been registered, in this case actions shall be taken in accordance with the provision set forth under paragraph (1) of the present Article.

Expiration of Time

Article 44:

1) The protester may, within 60 days following the date on which the protest against the person applying for registration has been communicated, resort to the court unless the person applying for registration has served him with a rebuttal prior to expiration of this time in accordance with the provision set forth under Article 43 of the present Law.

2) Where the plaintiff did not resort to the court within the time provided for under paragraph (1) of the present Article, the registration office shall, taking into account the decision of the court, register the patent in the name of the respondent. In this case the amount which he had paid for registration of the patent shall be deposited into the state's revenues account.

Moratorium

Article 45:

1) Where the plaintiff has failed to attach his documents and papers to proceedings of the case, the court may, on the basis of his request after hearing, and if necessary, grant him a moratorium not exceeding 3 months.

2) A moratorium provided for under paragraph (1) of the present Article can also be granted to the person applying for registration in order to submit documents necessary for his defense.

Cancellation Referral to the Court

Article 46:

Any beneficiary may submit an application to a competent court to issue an order concerning cancellation of the patent in the following instances:

1- Where the invention or discovery does not meet the criteria of eligibility for registration set out at Article 7(1) of this Law, or is ineligible for registration under Article 7(2).

2- Where the invention or discovery has not been worked for five years following issuance of the Patent Form, and where a compulsory license on the invention or discovery has been granted but has not been sufficient to remedy the failure to work. No proceedings may be instituted under this subparagraph before the expiration of two years from the grant of the first compulsory license on the relevant invention or discovery.

2) A court's decision pursuant to this Article shall be subject to independent judicial review.

2) Any beneficiary may submit an application to a competent court to issue an order concerning nullification of the patent Form under the following instances:

1—Where the Invention or Discovery is not new.

2—Where the Patent Form has not been issued in accordance with the provisions set forth under Article 7 of the present Law.

3—Where the purpose of the Invention or Discovery is mainly scientific research and has no practical applicability for industrial, agricultural or service purposes.

4—Where the Invention or Discovery has not been put in practical use for five years following issuance of the Patent Form.

Precautionary Measures

Article 47:

The pertinent court shall have the authority to order, in accordance with applicable regulations, provisional measures to prevent an infringement of any rights under this Law, or to preserve evidence relevant to an alleged infringement. Where appropriate, such measures may be adopted without notice or hearing afforded to the defendant, in particular where any delay is likely to cause irreparable harm to a right holder, or where there is a demonstrable risk of destruction of evidence.

~~1) A plaintiff may, concerning the exclusive right in respect of his Invention or Discovery ask the competent court at any time to issue an order for sequestration of forged or imitative products, or may ask the court to issue an interim order for non production, sale or entry of forged or imitative goods.~~

~~2) The court shall, in order to compensate for damages incurred by the respondent, require the plaintiff to provide an appropriate guarantee prior to issuing an interim order for sequestration of products or for non production, sale or entry of goods.~~

~~3) Where the plaintiff fails to file a case within 10 days following the issuance of the court's order, he shall be required to compensate for damages incurred by the respondent,~~
