Approved by the Federation Council on November 15, 1995

Chapter I. General Provisions

Article 1. The Sphere of Application of the Present Federal Law

1. The present Federal Law lays down the legal framework for the production and turnover of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products in the Russian Federation.

The state regulation of the industrial production and turnover of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products is designed to protect the economic interests of the Russian Federation, to secure the needs of consumers as regards such products and also to improve their quality as well as to enforce the existing legislation, norms and rules relevant to the regulated area of activity.

2. The present Federal Law shall cover relations involving as their participants legal entities (organizations) irrespective of their organizational and legal forms and forms of ownership meeting the requirements established by the present Federal Law, as well as individuals engaged in business activities in the retail sale of alcohol-containing products.

3. The present Federal Law shall not cover:

- activities of individuals (natural persons) who produce products containing ethyl alcohol other than for sale;

- activities of organizations involved in the production and turnover of medical, medical and prophylactic preparations containing ethyl alcohol which are registered by an authorized federal executive body and entered in the State Register of Medications and Medical Preparations and also in the activities of pharmaceutical establishments related to the production of preparations to individual prescriptions, as well as homeopathic preparations, veterinary preparations, cosmetics and perfumery products which were granted state registration with authorized federal executive bodies.

- activity of production of, and circulation of, beer;

- activity of production of, and circulation of, natural beverages with an ethyl-alcohol content not exceeding six per cent by volume of the finished product made from wine materials produced without the addition of ethyl alcohol;

- activity in the turnover of alcohol-containing inedible products packed up in metal aerosol packings holding not more than 450 millilitres;

- transfer across the customs border of the Russian Federation of ethyl alcohol and alcoholic and alcohol-containing products intended for official use by diplomatic, consular and other official representations of foreign states, including the representations of foreign states at international interstate and intergovernmental organisations;

- transfer across the customs border of the Russian Federation of ethyl alcohol and alcoholic and alcohol-containing products intended for showing as samples at exhibitions and for the conduct of certification in a quantity of not more than five units (bottles or other consumer containers) with respect to each relevant name.

4. Proceeding from the volume of the consumer containers (packings) and /or from the value of perfumery-and-cosmetic products, the Government of the Russian Federation can establish a list of such products to the activity in whose turnover the effect of this Federal Law shall not be applicable.

Article 2. The Basic Terms Used in the Present Federal Law

The following basic terms are used for the purposes of the present Federal Law:

- production, storage and delivery of alcoholic and alcohol-containing inedible products;
- retail trade in alcoholic products.

3. The production and turnover of produced ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products shall be subject to licensing as regards each kind of produced product, either being received or supplied for the retail trade, as specified in Article 2 of the present Federal Law.

4. Licences for the pursuance of the types of activity specified in Paragraphs 5 and 6 of Item 2 of the present article are issued separately for ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products.

5. Licenses for the production and turnover of produced ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products will be granted only to organizations in possession of equipment that meets the requirements of Article 8 of the present Federal Law.

6. Abolished from January 1, 2006.

7. Abolished from January 1, 2006.

8. Licenses for the performance of activities stipulated in Item 2 of this Article, except for the activities indicated in Paragraphs nine and ten shall be issued in the manner laid down by the present Federal Law.

9. Licenses for the performance of activities stipulated in Paragraph nine, Item 2 of this Article, shall be issued in the manner laid down by the Government of the Russian Federation. Accordingly, said licenses shall be issued by the federal executive bodies authorized by the Government of the Russian Federation and by bodies authorized by the subjects of the Russian Federation.

10. Alcoholic-product retailing licences shall be issued only to organisations by subjects of the Russian Federation in the procedure established by them with due regard for the provisions of the present Federal Law. The powers for licensing the retail trading in alcohol products may be assigned by a subject of the Russian Federation to local self-government bodies in accordance with Article 7 of the present Federal Law. An alcoholic-product retailing licence issued by one subject of the Russian Federation can have effect on the territory of another subject of the Russian Federation, provided there is an agreement to this effect between them.

Article 19. Procedure for Issuing a Licence

1. If an organisation intends to obtain a licence for the pursuance of one of the types of activity relating to the production of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products and specified in Item 2 of Article 18 of the present Federal Law it shall file the below documents with the licensor:

1) a licence application containing an indication of the full and/or brief name and the organisational legal form of the legal entity (organisation, its whereabouts, the whereabouts of the detached units thereof that pursue the licensed types of activity, the name of the bank and settlement bank account, the type of activity subject to licensing that will be pursued by the organisations, the type of product (in accordance with Items 3 and 4 of Article 18 of the present Federal Law) and the term for which the licence is sought;

2) copies of the constitutive documents and a copy of a document on the state registration of the organisation as a legal entity (with originals being shown if the copies have not been attested by a notary);

3) a copy of a document confirming that the organisation has registered with a tax body;

4) a copy of a document confirming that the licence fee has been paid;

5) the tax body's statement confirming that the organisation has no debts relating to the payment of taxes, fees, penalties and fines for violation of the legislation of the Russian Federation on taxes and fees;

6) a statement of specifically-empowered state bodies on the compliance of the organisation's production and warehouse premises with the sanitation-epidemiological, fire-safety, ecological rules and regulations;

7) a document acknowledging the technical competence (accreditation) of the laboratory intended for the chemical and technological monitoring of the production of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products or a copy of a contract with such a laboratory for such a monitoring;

8) copies of the certificates of conformity of basic technological equipment;

9) a document confirming that the organisation has its charter capital (charter fund) in accordance with Item 9 of Article 8 and Items 2.1 and 2.2 of Article 11 of the present Federal Law.

2. It is hereby prohibited to demand that an organisation file other documents than the ones specified in Item 1 of the present article.

3. If an organisation intends to obtain a licence for the pursuance of one of the types of activity relating to the circulation (except for retailing) of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products and specified in Item 2 of Article 18 of the present Federal Law it shall file with the licensor the documents specified in Item 1 of the present article save for the documents envisaged by Subitem 6 of Item 1 of the present article in as much as it concerns the demand for a statement from the federal executive governmental body empowered to carry out ecological expert examination in respect of the premises intended for storing alcoholic products and also Subitem 7 of Item 1 of the present article.

4. If an organisation that holds a licence for the pursuance of one of the types of activity specified in Item 2 of Article 18 of the present Federal Law (except for alcoholic-product retailing) is seeking a licence for the pursuance of another type of activity, except for an activity relating to the production of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products, it shall file with the licensor only a licence application, a copy of a document confirming that the licence fee has been paid and the tax body's statement on the organisation's lacking debts relating to the payment of taxes and fees.

5. The documents filed by an organisation with the licensor for the purpose of obtaining a licence for the production and circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products shall be registered and subject to an expert examination by the licensor.

6. The keeping of a state register of issued licences (except for licences for alcoholic-product retailing), suspended licences and annulled licences is the responsibility of the federal executive governmental body empowered to keep the register.

7. A decision on the issuance of a licence for the production and circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products or on refusal to grant such a licence shall be taken within 30 days after the receipt of the application and all the necessary documents. If an additional expert examination is required this term may be extended by the period of completion of the examination, but not exceeding 30 days.

8. A decision of the issuance of a licence for the production and circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products or on refusal to grant such a licence together with reasons for the refusal shall be sent in writing to the organisation within three days after the date of the decision.

9. An application for a licence for the production and circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products may be declined:

1) if unreliable or distorted information is discovered in the documents filed;

2) if the requirements set out in Article 8 of the present Federal Law are not met;

3) if the organisation does not comply with the other licence requirements established by the present Federal Law.

10. When a new basic technological equipment is acquired to be used for the production of ethyl alcohol and alcoholic products the licensee shall file a list of the types of this equipment and the certificates of conformity with the licensor. The licensor shall consider these documents within 30 days after they are filed.

If unreliable information is discovered in the document filed and/or if the licensee is in breach of the requirements set forth in Article 8 of the present Federal Law the licensor shall adopt a decision on the prohibition of the use of the new basic technological equipment for the production of ethyl alcohol and alcoholic products. The licensee shall be notified in writing of this decision within three days after the date of the decision.

The use of a new basic technological equipment for the production of ethyl alcohol and alcoholic products is allowed upon the expiry of 45 days after the filing of lists of the equipment and certificates of conformity with the licensor, unless the decision mentioned in Paragraph 2 of the present item is taken.

It is hereby prohibited to use a new basic technological equipment for the production of ethyl alcohol and alcoholic products if the decision specified in Paragraph 2 of the present item has been taken.

11. In the event of re-organisation of an organisation the remaking of a licence shall be carried out in the procedure established for the issuance thereof, on the application of the organisation or its successor.

12. In the event of change of the name of an organisation (without its re-organisation), change of the location thereof or of the location of its detached units, change in other details specified in the licence or loss of a licence the licence shall be re-made on the organisation's application filed together with documents confirming that these changes have been made or that the licence has been lost. In such cases the remaking of the licence is carried out by means of issuing a new licence, with the effective term of the licence remaining unchanged, on the condition that the previous licence is returned (except for the case of loss thereof) to the licensor.

13. A licence re-making application shall be filed with the licensor within 30 days after the occurrence of circumstances that have caused the need for licence re-making.

14. Until the completion of licence re-making the organisation or its successor may pursue its activity under the licence issued earlier.

15. Until the taking of a decision on the issuance of a licence the licensor shall be entitled to inspect the organisation to verify its compliance with the licence requirements established by the present Federal Law.

16. The term for the licensor to take its decision on re-making of a licence shall not exceed the term established for a decision on the issuance of a licence or on refusal to issue a licence.

17. A licence for the production and circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products shall be issued for the term specified by the organisation, such a term not exceeding five years. The effective term of the licence shall be extended on the organisation's request filed by the organisation as an application in writing with the licensor together with the tax body's statement on the lack of debts relating to the payment of taxes and fees and a copy of a document confirming that the fee has been paid in accordance with Item 18 of the present article. On the organisation's request such a licence may be extended by a term shorter than five years. The licensor shall consider an application for extension of the effective term of a licence within 15 days, take its decision on extending the effective term of the licence or refusing to extend it, and notify the organisation accordingly in writing within three days after the date of the decision, including reasons for refusal if it is decided to refuse extending the effective term of the licence.

18. A fee shall be charged at the rates and in the procedure established by a federal law for the issuance of licences for the pursuance of the types of activity specified in Item 2 of Article 18 of the present Federal Law, except for licences for alcoholic-product retailing, for the extension of effective terms of such licences and for the re-making of licences.

19. The following shall be indicated in the licence: the name of the licensor, the full and/or brief name and organisational legal form of the organisation, its whereabouts and the whereabouts of its detached units pursuing the licensed types of activity, the type of activity licensed, the type of product according to Items 3 and 4 of Article 18 of the present Federal Law, the licence's effective term, number and date of issue. This list of details is exhaustive.

20. A licence for the production of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products that is issued to an organisation extends to the activities of the organisation's detached units only if their whereabouts are mentioned in the licence.

Article 20. Suspending, Resuming, Terminating a License Operation and Cancelling a License

1. A license to engage in the production and turnover of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products may be suspended by a decision of the licensor body on the basis of evidence presented by an authority in charge for the control and enforcement of the present Federal Law, as well as at the initiative of the licensor body within its powers in the following cases:

- the organization's failure to execute orders of the licensor body to eliminate violations of the license terms;

- failure to submit in due time an application to reissue the license;

- failure to pay the license fee by an established deadline;

abolished from January 1, 2006;

abolished from January 1, 2006;

the use of a basic technological equipment intended for the production of ethyl alcohol made from food raw materials and/or of alcoholic products and/or for the storage thereof, for the production and/or storage in the same equipment of non-food products, except for basic production waste;

the use of a basic technological equipment which is intended for the production and circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products (except for the cases stipulated by Item 2.1 of Article 8 of this Federal Law) and which is not equipped with automated facilities for measuring and recording the content and volume of water-free alcohol in finished products and finished product output, technical facilities for recording and transmitting information on the output and circulation volume of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products to the comprehensive state automated information system in accordance with the provisions of Article 8 of the present Federal Law;

the circulation of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products in breach of the provisions of Article 10.2 of the present Federal Law as well as non-food alcohol-containing products, apart from that, in breach of the provisions of Item 4 of Article 10.1 of the present Federal Law;

the organisation's default within the established term on the provision to the federal executive governmental body charged with interindustrial coordination and functional regulation in the area of state statistics of information on the output and delivery volume of alcoholic products and alcohol-containing products;

the delivery, purchase of ethyl alcohol, including denatured one, and non-bottled alcohol-containing products with an ethyl alcohol content exceeding 60 per cent by volume in the finished product without notification;

the lack of a technological equipment allowing to fully process, and/or dispose of, distillate grains (basic alcohol-production waste) by means of purification facilities (for organisations pursuing the production of ethyl alcohol);

the use of a new basic technological equipment for the production of ethyl alcohol and of alcoholic products in breach of the provisions of Item 10 of Article 19 of the present Federal Law;

- the transfer of federal special stamps and excise stamps to another organisation;

- the use of registered trade marks and inventions and industrial models protected with patents after the entry into force of a court decision on their illegal use;

The license shall be suspended for the period required to eliminate the violations discovered. The above period may not be longer than six months. If an applicant fails to eliminate the discovered violations the licensor body shall be obliged to file a court suit requesting cancellation of the license.

Within seven days after the decision is taken to suspend the license the licensor body shall remove the remaining final products, raw materials and semi-finished products used in their production, it will also seal the equipment and communications to prevent any production and sale of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products.

Having received a statement from an organisation on the elimination of the circumstances that have caused the suspension of a licence, the licensor shall within ten days take its decision on resuming the licence or on refusing to resume the licence and on filing a licence annulment application with the court. If within the said term the licensor has not taken any of these decisions the licence is deemed resumed.

Decision of the licensor body to suspend the license may be appealed in a court of law.

2. A license to engage in the production and turnover of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products may be cancelled by a court decision based on a request of the applicant or upon expiration of such license.

3. A license to engage in the production and turnover of ethyl alcohol, alcoholic and alcohol-containing products may be cancelled by a court decision based on an application of the licensor body.

The following shall constitute grounds for cancelling such a license in a judicial manner:

- inaccurate data uncovered in documents filed by the organization to obtain such license;

abolished from January 1, 2006;

- deliveries of ethyl alcohol including denatured ethyl alcohol, to consumers who hold no requisite licenses, or notifications;
