

FEDERAL LAW NO. 164-FZ OF DECEMBER 8, 2003 ON THE FUNDAMENTAL PRINCIPLES OF STATE REGULATION OF FOREIGN TRADE ACTIVITY (with the Amendments and Additions of August 22, 2004, July 22, 2005, February 2, 2006)

Passed by the State Duma in November 21, 2003
Endorsed by the Federation Council in November 26, 2003

Chapter I. General Provisions

Article 1. Objectives and Scope of the Present Federal Law

1. The present Federal Law shall determine the fundamental principles of state regulation of foreign trade activity, the powers of the Russian Federation and the constituent members of the Russian Federation in the field of foreign trade activity with the objective of ensuring favourable conditions for foreign trade activity and also to protect the economic and political interests of the Russian Federation.

2. The present Federal law shall be applicable to relations arising in the field of the state regulation of foreign trade activity and also to relations directly associated with such activity.

3. The specificity of the state regulation of foreign trade activity in fields associated with the export from and import into the Russian Federation, including with the supply or purchase of military products, with the development and production of military products and also the specificity of the state regulation of foreign trade activity as regards goods, information, work, services, results of intellectual activity which can be used in the creation of weapons of mass destruction, means of their delivery, other types of armaments and military equipment, shall be such as are established under international agreements of the Russian Federation, federal laws on military and technical co-operation of the Russian Federation with foreign states and also on export control.

4. The provisions of the present federal law on the state regulation of foreign trade in services shall not be applicable to:

1) services offered by state authorities in performing their functions on a non-commercial basis and not on the terms of competition with one or several service providers;

2) services rendered by the Central Bank of the Russian Federation in performing the functions established under federal laws;

3) financial services provided in conducting, not on terms of competition with one or several providers of services, the activity associated with social security, including with state pension security and activity performed against the guarantees of the Government of the Russian Federation or using governmental financial resources.

Article 2. Basic Concepts Used in the Present Federal Law

For purposes of the present federal law the use is made of the following basic concepts, viz.:

1) identical goods means goods which by their functional purpose, application, qualitative and technical characteristics are completely identical to other goods or, in the absence of such completely identical goods, goods which enjoy the characteristics close to those of other goods;

2) reciprocity means the granting by a state (group of states) to another state (group of states) of a certain international trade regime in exchange for the granting by the latter state (group of states) to the former state (group of states) of an identical regime;

2. Any decision, action (inaction) of the state body or of its official may be appealed before a court of law, arbitration court and in instances specified under the legislation of the Russian Federation, before a superior state body.

Chapter 5. State Regulation of Foreign Trade Activity in the Field of Foreign Trade in Goods

Article 19. Customs-Tariff Regulation

With the objectives of regulating foreign trade in goods, including protecting the domestic market of the Russian Federation and to stimulate structural changes in the economy, import and export customs duties shall be imposed in accordance with the legislation of the Russian Federation.

Article 20. Non-Tariff Regulation

The non-tariff regulation of foreign trade in goods may be effected only in the instances specified under Articles 21 - 24, 26 and 27 of the present Federal law, subject to the requirements laid down therein.

Article 21. Quantitative Restrictions Imposed by the Government of the Russian Federation in Exceptional Cases

1. The import and export of goods shall be carried out without any quantitative restrictions, except for cases specified under Part 2 of this Article and also under other provisions of the present Federal Law.

2. The Government of the Russian Federation shall, in exceptional cases, have the right to impose:

1) temporary restrictions or bans on the export of goods to prevent or reduce a critical shortage in the domestic market of the Russian Federation of food or other products that are of crucial importance for the domestic market of the Russian Federation. A List of goods that are of crucial importance shall be determined by the Government of the Russian Federation;

2) restrictions on the import of agricultural produce or of aquatic biological resources brought into the Russian Federation in any form, when it may be required:

a) to curtail the production or sale of similar products of the Russian origin;

b) to curtail the production or sale of goods of Russian origin that may be directly replaced with imported goods unless there is a large-scale production of similar goods in the Russian Federation;

c) to remove from the market a temporary surplus of similar goods of Russian origin by providing the available surplus of such goods to certain groups of Russian consumers either free of charge or at prices less than market prices;

d) to remove from the market a temporary surplus of goods of Russian origin that may be directly replaced with imported goods unless there is a large-scale production of similar goods in the Russian Federation by providing the available surplus of such goods to certain groups of Russian consumers either free of charge or at prices less than market prices;

e) to limit the production of animal produce whose production is dependent upon goods imported into the Russian Federation, provided the production in the Russian Federation of similar goods is relatively small.

3. Food and agricultural products, for purposes of this Article, shall be such as defined by the Government of the Russian Federation.

Article 22. Non-discriminatory Application of Quantitative Restrictions

1. When it is allowed under the present Federal law to impose quantitative restrictions on the export and (or) import of goods, such restrictions shall be applied regardless of the country of origin of goods, unless otherwise is envisaged under this Federal law.

2. When, in imposing quantitative restrictions on the import of goods it is necessary to effect the allocation of quotas of the import of goods among the foreign states concerned, due regard shall be paid to the preceding import of goods from those states.

3. The provisions of Parts 1 and 2 of this Article may not apply in respect of goods originating from a foreign state (group of states) with which the Russian Federation has no mutual contractual obligations regarding the granting of a regime that is not less favorable than that granted to other states or groups of states.

4. The provisions of this Article shall not apply to compensatory measures specified under Article 27 of the present Federal law.

5. The provisions of Parts 1 and 2 of this Article shall not prevent compliance with the obligations stipulated under international agreements of the Russian Federation on border trade, customs union or free trade zone.

Article 23. Allocation of the Quota

When taking a decision to introduce a quota, the Government of the Russian Federation shall determine a method to be used to allocate the quota and, where appropriate, lay down a procedure for holding a contest or auction. The allocation of the quota shall be based upon the principle of equality of participants in foreign trade activity as far as receipt of quota is concerned and also upon their non-discrimination by reason of form of property, place of registration or position in the market.

Article 24. Licensing In the Sphere of Foreign Trade in Goods

1. Licensing in the sphere of foreign trade in goods (hereinafter referred to as the licensing) shall be introduced in the following cases:

1) the imposition of temporary quantitative restrictions on the export or import of individual types of goods;

2) the implementation of a permit required procedure for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods that may have an adverse effect upon the security of the state, life or health of citizens, property of individuals or legal persons, public or municipal property, environment, life or health of animals and plants;

3) the granting of an exclusive right to export and (or) import individual types of goods;

4) the fulfillment by the Russian Federation of its international obligations.

2. The grounds for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods in instances specified under Part 1 of this Article shall be a license to be granted by the federal executive authority specified under Part 3 of Article 13 of the present Federal law.

The lack of a license shall be a valid reason for the customs bodies of the Russian Federation not to allow the release of goods.

3. The federal executive authority specified under Part 3 of Article 13 of the present Federal law shall build up and maintain a federal data bank of licenses that have been issued. The procedure for building up and maintaining the federal data bank of licenses that have been issued shall be such as prescribed by the Government of the Russian Federation.

Article 25. Control Over Export and (or) Import of Individual Types of Goods

1. The control over export and (or) import of individual types of goods shall be introduced as a temporary measure for purposes of monitoring the dynamics of export and (or) import of individual types of goods.

2. The control over export and (or) import of individual types of goods shall be exercised by issuing permits for export and (or) import of individual types of goods. The permits shall be issued without restrictions to any participants in foreign trade activity on the basis of applications submitted in accordance with the form prescribed by the federal executive authority specified under Part 3 of Article 13 of the present Federal law. The period of issuing the permits shall not exceed three working days as from the date of submission of such application. It is not allowed to require, for purposes of obtaining a permit for export and (or) import of individual types of goods, presentation of any documents, other than an application. The lack of a permit shall be a valid reason for the customs bodies of the Russian Federation not to allow the release of goods.

Article 26. Exclusive Right to Export and (or) Import of Individual Types of Goods

1. The right to conduct foreign trade activity may be restricted by granting an exclusive right for export and (or) import of individual types of goods.

2. Lists of individual types of goods, for the export and (or) import of which an exclusive right may be granted, and also organizations that may be granted an exclusive right for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods, shall be such as defined under federal laws.

3. An exclusive right for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods shall be exercised on the basis of a license. The license to exercise an exclusive right for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods shall be issued by the federal executive authority specified under Part 3 of Article 13 of the present Federal Law.

4. Transactions for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods implemented in the absence of a license to exercise an exclusive right for the export and (or) import of the individual types of goods shall be deemed to be null and void.

5. The organizations that have been granted an exclusive right for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods shall handle transactions for the export and (or) import of individual types of goods, proceeding from the principle of non-discrimination and being guided exclusively by commercial considerations.

Article 27. Special Protective, Antidumping and Compensatory Measures

In accordance with Federal Law, it is allowed to impose special protective measures, antidumping measures and compensatory measures in the importation of goods in order to protect the economic interests of Russian manufacturers of goods.

Article 28. Pre-Shipment Inspection

1. With the objective of protecting the rights and interests of consumers, to counteract the unfair practices of distortion of data regarding the goods imported into the Russian Federation, including that of underestimation of their value, the Government of the Russian Federation shall be entitled to introduce a pre-shipment inspection, including the issuance of a certificate of passing pre-shipment inspection, in respect of individual goods being imported into the Russian Federation. The pre-shipment inspection shall be introduced in respect of individual types of goods for a period not exceeding three years. The Government of the Russian Federation shall, when taking a decision as to whether it is advisable to extend a period for carrying out the pre-shipment inspection in respect of individual goods, sum up and analyze the practice and results of application of the said measure.

2. Lists of goods in respect of which the pre-shipment inspection is introduced shall be such as approved by the Government of the Russian Federation.

3. The expenses involved in performing pre-shipment inspection shall be paid by the importer of goods in respect of which the pre-shipment inspection is introduced. The Government of the Russian Federation shall, at the same time as adoption of a decision to introduce the pre-shipment inspection, reduce the rates of customs duties on goods in respect of which the inspection is introduced.

4. The body conducting pre-shipment inspection shall be designated by the Government of the Russian Federation following the results of a contest for provision of services of pre-shipment inspection and shall conduct its activity on the basis of an agreement made with the Government of the Russian Federation.

5. In choosing a body for pre-shipment inspection, the following characteristics shall be taken into account, viz.:

- 1) professional reputation;
- 2) sufficient production and professional resources;
- 3) experience of work in the sphere of provision of services of pre-shipment inspection;
- 4) the cost of carrying out the pre-shipment inspection.

6. The regulations on pre-shipment inspection shall be approved by the Government of the Russian Federation and shall comprise the rules for implementing such inspection, rights, obligations and responsibility of persons involved in the pre-shipment inspection, procedure for settling disputes that may arise between the pre-shipment inspection body and the importer of goods, procedure for exercise of control over the activity of pre-shipment inspection body.

7. The pre-shipment inspection shall be effected subject to the following principles:

- 1) openness and transparency;
- 2) application of procedures and criteria employed in the process of pre-shipment inspection, objectively and on equal terms in respect of all importers of goods;
- 3) inspection of the quality and quantity of goods in accordance with the requirements of the legislation of the Russian Federation;
- 4) providing the importers of goods with information regarding the requirements laid down in the Russian Federation in respect of the pre-shipment inspection;
- 5) ensuring the confidentiality of data received in the process of the pre-shipment inspection.

8. The pre-shipment inspection body shall carry out the pre-shipment inspection on the basis of an application submitted by the importer of goods in accordance with the regulations specified under Part 6 of this Article and, shall, depending on the results of such inspection, issue to the importer of goods a certificate on passing the pre-shipment inspection or take a decision on a motivated refusal to issue such certificate.

9. The time limits for carrying out the pre-shipment inspection shall not, as a rule, exceed three working days.

10. The import of goods subject to pre-shipment inspection shall be carried out only with a certificate of passing the pre-shipment inspection.

Article 29. National Regime in Respect of Goods Originating from Foreign States

1. Under the legislation on taxes and fees it is not allowed to fix differentiated rates of taxes and fees (except for import customs duties) depending on the country of origin of goods.

2. The technical, pharmacological, sanitary, veterinary, phyto-sanitary and ecological requirements and also requirements of obligatory confirmation of compliance shall be applicable to goods originating from a foreign state in the same manner as they are applicable to similar goods of Russian origin.

3. The goods originating from a foreign state or groups of foreign states shall be subject to a regime that is no less favourable than a regime granted to similar goods of Russian origin or to directly competing goods of Russian origin in respect of sale, offer for sale, purchase, transportation, distribution or utilization in the domestic market of the Russian Federation. This provision shall not prevent the application of differentiated payments connected with transportation and based exclusively on the cost of operation of transport vehicles, rather than on the origin of the goods.

4. The goods originating from a foreign state or group of foreign states that have no international agreements with the Russian Federation on the placing of goods of Russian origin under a regime envisaged under Parts 2 and 3 of this Article, may, under the legislation of the Russian Federation, be subject to another regulation regime.

5. The provisions of this Article shall not apply to supplies of goods for governmental or municipal needs.

Article 30. Payments Collected In Connection With Import and Export of Goods

1. All payments established under the regulatory legal acts of the Russian Federation collected in connection with the import and export of goods which are not customs payments and other taxes shall not exceed the approximate value of services provided nor represent protection of goods of Russian origin or taxation for fiscal purposes.

2. This Article shall apply to payments collected in connection with the import and export of goods, including those related to:

- 1) quantitative restrictions;
- 2) licensing;
- 3) exercise of currency control;
- 4) statistical services;

- 5) confirmation of compliance of products with obligatory requirements;
- 6) examination and inspection;
- 7) quarantine, sanitary service and fumigation.

Article 31. Freedom of International Transit

1. Unless otherwise is prescribed under federal laws, international transit shall be carried out freely by the railway, water, air and motor transportation routes, most suitable for international traffic. In international transit, no distinction shall be made on the basis of flag, place of registration, place of origin of the vessel, port of call, port of departure or point of destination, port of sailing or of any other circumstances related to the ownership of goods, vessel, aircraft or any other transport vehicles, unless otherwise is envisaged under the present Federal law, other federal laws.

2. Under the customs legislation of the Russian Federation it is allowed to lay down requirements for the importation of individual types of goods and transport vehicles into the customs territory of the Russian Federation or for the exportation of individual types of goods and transport vehicles from the customs territory of the Russian Federation via a specified point of passage across the state border of the Russian Federation and for their transfer along specified routes.

3. This Article shall not apply to international transit traffic of aircraft, except for air transit transportation of goods.

Article 32. Measures Affecting Foreign Trade in Goods Imposed Proceeding From National Interests

1. Regardless of the provisions of this Chapter, in accordance with the international agreements of the Russian Federation and federal laws and proceeding from national interests, there may be imposed measures of a non-economic character, affecting foreign trade in goods, provided that those measures:

- 1) are essential to comply with public morals or law and order;
- 2) are necessary to protect the life or health of citizens, the environment, life or health of animals and plants;
- 3) are related to the import or export of gold or silver;
- 4) are applied to protect items of cultural value;
- 5) are required to prevent the exhaustion of irreplaceable natural resources and are implemented simultaneously with curtailment of the domestic production or consumption associated with the utilization of irreplaceable natural resources;
- 6) are essential to acquire or distribute goods in case of their general or local shortage;
- 7) are essential to comply with the international obligations of the Russian Federation;
- 8) are essential to ensure the defense of the country and security of the state;
- 9) are necessary to ensure the observance of regulatory legal acts of the Russian Federation, not conflicting with the international agreements of the Russian Federation, dealing, among other things, with:
  - a) application of the customs legislation of the Russian Federation;
  - b) presentation to the customs bodies of the Russian Federation, simultaneously with a cargo customs declaration, of documents on compliance of goods with obligatory requirements;
  - c) protection of the environment;
  - d) an obligation as is envisaged under the legislation of the Russian Federation, to take out or destroy goods that fail to meet technical, pharmacological, sanitary, veterinary and ecological requirements;
  - e) prevention and investigation of crimes and also legal proceedings and enforcement of judicial decisions in respect of those crimes;
  - f) protection of intellectual property;
  - g) granting of an exclusive right in accordance with Article 26 of the present Federal law.

2. Measures specified under Part 1 of this Article shall not be taken or applied by a method being a means of arbitrary or unjustified discrimination against states or representing latent restriction of foreign trade in goods.

3. The provisions of Part 2 of this Article may be inapplicable in respect of goods originating from foreign states or groups of foreign states with which the Russian Federation has no mutual contractual obligations on the granting of a regime no less favourable than the regime granted to other states or groups of states.

Chapter 6. State Regulation of Foreign Trade Activity in the Field of Foreign Trade in Services

Article 33. Foreign Trade In Services

1. Foreign trade in services shall be carried out as follows:

- 1) from the territory of the Russian Federation into the territory of a foreign state;
- 2) from the territory of a foreign state into the territory of the Russian Federation;
- 3) in the territory of the Russian Federation to a foreign customer of services;
- 4) in the territory of a foreign state to a Russian customer of services;

5) by a Russian provider of services not having a commercial presence in the territory of a foreign state, by its presence or the presence of persons duly authorized to act on its behalf in the territory of a foreign state;

6) by a foreign provider of services not having a commercial presence in the territory of the Russian Federation by its presence or by the presence of foreign persons duly authorized to act on its behalf in the territory of the Russian Federation;

7) by a Russian provider of services by a commercial presence in the territory of a foreign state;

8) by a foreign provider of services by a commercial presence in the territory of the Russian Federation.

2. Unless otherwise is envisaged under international agreements of the Russian Federation, the foreign trade in services may be restricted by imposition of bans and restraints affecting all or individual sectors of services, regarding methods of providing services on the basis of federal laws and other regulatory legal acts of the Russian Federation.

Article 34. National Regime In Respect of Foreign Trade In Services

1. Unless otherwise is provided under international agreements of the Russian Federation, this federal law or any other regulatory legal acts of the Russian Federation as regards measures affecting foreign trade in services, foreign providers of services and services provided by methods specified under Items 2, 4, 6 and 8 of Part 1 of Article 33 of the present Federal law, shall be granted a regime no less favourable than the regime granted to similar Russian providers of services and services rendered by them in the territory of the Russian Federation. The regime shall be deemed to be less favourable if it changes the terms of competition in favour of the Russian providers of services or services provided by them in the territory of the Russian Federation as compared with similar foreign providers of services or services rendered by methods specified under Items 2, 4, 6 and 8 of Part 1 of Article 33 of the present Federal law.

2. The provisions of Part 1 of this Article shall not be applicable to the provision of services (execution of work) in order to meet governmental or municipal needs.

Article 35. Measures Affecting Foreign Trade in Services and Imposed Proceeding From National Interests

1. Regardless of the provisions of Article 34 of this Article of the present Federal law, in accordance with the international agreements of the Russian Federation and federal laws and proceeding from the national interests, measures may be imposed affecting foreign trade in services, provided that those measures:

1) are essential to comply with public morals or law and order;

2) are necessary to protect life or health of citizens, the environment, life or health of animals and plants;

3) are essential to comply with the international obligations of the Russian Federation;

4) are essential to ensure the defense of the country and security of the state;

5) are required to ensure the integrity and stability of the financial system, protection of rights and legitimate interests of investors, depositors, holders of policies and providers of financial services;

6) are aimed at ensuring equal or effective imposition or collection of taxes in respect of foreign providers of services and (or) methods of providing services specified under Items 2, 4, 6 and 8 of Part 1 of Article 33 of the present Federal law;

7) are measures involved in implementation of provisions of the agreement on the avoidance of double taxation;

8) are necessary to ensure the observance of regulatory legal acts of the Russian Federation that are not at variance with the provisions of the present Federal law, dealing, among other things, with:

a) prevention and investigation of crimes and also legal proceedings and enforcement of judicial decisions regarding those crimes;

b) prevention of unfair practices or consequences of non-fulfillment of agreements the subject of which is provision of services;

c) protection against interference in the private life of individual persons as regards the processing and dissemination of data of a personal character and protection of confidential information on the person and personal accounts.

2. The measures specified under Part 1 of this Article shall not be undertaken or applied by a method being a means of arbitrary or unjustified discrimination against states or representing a latent restriction of foreign trade in services.

3. The provisions of Part 2 of this Article may be inapplicable in respect of services, foreign providers of services from foreign states or groups of foreign states with which the Russian Federation has no mutual contractual obligations on the granting of a regime no less favourable than the regime granted to other states or groups of states.

Chapter 7. State Regulation of Foreign Trade Activity in the Field of Foreign Trade in Intellectual Property

Article 36. Foreign trade in intellectual property

1. The state regulation of foreign trade activity in the field of foreign trade in intellectual property shall be carried out in accordance with the present federal law.

2. In accordance with international agreements of the Russian Federation and federal laws measures may be imposed affecting foreign trade in intellectual property, provided those measures are essential for the observance of public morals or law and order, protection of life or health of citizens, the environment, life or health of animals and plants, compliance with the international obligations of the Russian Federation, ensuring the defense of the country and security of the state and in other instances envisaged under the present Federal law.

Chapter 8. Special Types of Bans and Restrictions of Foreign Trade in Goods, Services and Intellectual Property

Article 37. Bans and restrictions of foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property for purposes of participation of the Russian Federation in international sanctions

Under Decrees of the President of the Russian Federation foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property may be restricted by measures the adoption of which is essential for participation of the Russian Federation in international sanctions as is envisaged under the UN Charter, including by measures deviating from the provisions of Part 1 of Article 21, Articles 22, 29-31 and 34 of the present Federal Law.

Article 38. Restriction of foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property for purposes of maintaining the equilibrium of the balance of payments of the Russian Federation

1. With the objective of protecting the external financial position and maintaining the equilibrium of the balance of payments of the Russian Federation, the Government of the Russian Federation may take a decision to impose measures restricting foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property, including measures deviating from the provisions of Part 1 of Article 21, Articles 22, 29, 30 and 34 of the present federal law. Such measures shall be imposed or enhanced as may be necessary in order:

1) to stop a serious shrinking of the currency reserves of the Russian Federation or to prevent a threat of a serious shrinking of the currency reserves of the Russian Federation;

2) to achieve a reasonable rate of increase of the currency reserves of the Russian Federation (when the currency reserves are too small).

2. The measures specified under Part 1 of this Article shall be imposed for a period that is required to achieve the pre-set goals, having regard for the international obligations of the Russian Federation.

3. The Government of the Russian Federation shall, in imposing measures towards the restriction of foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property specified under Part 1 of this Article, designate the federal executive authority responsible for the implementation of such measures.

4. The decision to impose measures restricting foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property specified under Part 1 of this Article shall be taken by the Government of the Russian Federation upon the recommendation of the Central Bank of the Russian Federation.

Article 39. Restriction of foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property associated with measures of currency regulation

The foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property may be restricted by measures of currency regulation or currency control as is envisaged under provisions of the Agreement of the International Monetary Fund and the legislation of the Russian Federation.

Article 40. Retaliatory measures

1. The Government of the Russian Federation shall have the right to impose measures restricting foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property (retaliatory measures) when a foreign state:

1) fails to comply with its obligations assumed under international agreements in respect of the Russian Federation;

2) undertakes measures which are infringing upon the economic interests of the Russian Federation, the constituent members of the Russian Federation, municipal entities or Russian persons or political interests of the Russian Federation, including measures which unjustifiably deprive Russian persons of an access to the market of a foreign state or are, in any other unjustified fashion, discriminatory against Russian persons;

3) fails to provide Russian persons with adequate and effective protection of their legitimate interests in that state, for instance, against the anti-competitive activity of other persons;

4) fails to take any reasonable actions to fight illegal activity of individuals or legal persons of that state in the territory of the Russian Federation.

2. Measures restricting foreign trade in goods, services and intellectual property specified under Part 1 of this Article shall be imposed in accordance with the commonly recognized principles and norms of international law, international agreements of the Russian Federation and within the limits required to ensure effective protection of the economic interests of the Russian Federation, the constituent members of the Russian Federation and Russian persons. The said measures may deviate from the provisions of Part 1 of Article 21, Articles 22, 29 - 31 and 34 of the present Federal Law.

3. The federal executive authority specified under Part 3 of Article 13 of the present federal law shall collect and sum up the information associated with the violation by a foreign state of the rights and legitimate interests of the Russian Federation, the constituent members of the Russian Federation, municipal entities and Russian persons in instances specified under Part 1 of this Article. If, as a result of examination of the information so received, that federal executive authority draws a conclusion that it is advisable to impose retaliatory measures in connection with the violations specified under Part 1 of this Article, it shall submit to the Government of the Russian Federation a report, to be agreed upon with the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Russian Federation, containing proposals to impose retaliatory measures.

4. The decision to impose retaliatory measures shall be taken by the Government of the Russian Federation. Prior to imposing retaliatory measures, the Government of the Russian Federation shall have the right to make a decision to hold negotiations with a respective foreign state.

Chapter 9. Special Regimes for Carrying Out Foreign Trade Activity

Article 41. Border Trade

1. Border trade shall be conducted, as a rule, on the basis of an international agreement of the Russian Federation with an adjoining foreign state or group of adjoining foreign states, providing for granting most favored nation treatment in foreign trade activity regarding foreign trade in goods and services conducted exclusively to satisfy local needs in goods and services produced within the limits of corresponding border territories and intended for consumption by individuals, having a permanent residence in those territories and by foreign persons permanently based in those territories. Notably, the said most favored nation treatment shall not apply to other foreign states or groups of foreign states with which the Russian Federation has concluded international agreements envisaging the granting of a regime no less favourable than the regime granted to any other foreign state.

2. The border trade may be conducted between Russian persons having a permanent base (residence) in the border territory of the Russian Federation and foreign states having a permanent base (residence) in a corresponding border territory specified in the international agreement of the Russian Federation with an adjoining foreign state, exclusively to satisfy local needs in goods and services produced within the limits of corresponding border territories and meant for consumption within the limits of corresponding border territories.
