COPYRIGHT ACT, 2014

(Act 5 of 2014)

I assent

J. A. Michel
President

15th April, 2014

AN ACT to consolidate and amend the law relating to copyrights so as to give effect to the provisions of the World Trade Organisation's Agreement on Trade-Related Aspects of Intellectual Property Rights, 1994 and to repeal and replace the Copyright Act and for matters connected therewith or incidental thereto.

ENACTED by the President and the National Assembly.

PART I PRELIMINARY

1. This Act may be cited as the Copyright Act, 2014 and shall come into operation on such date as the Minister may, by Notice published in the Gazette, appoint.

Short title and commencement

Application

2.(1) The provisions of this Act shall apply to works, performances, phonograms and broadcasts created before or after the commencement of this Act, provided that the period of protection had not expired under the laws of Seychelles or the laws of the country of origin of such works, performances, phonograms or broadcasts that are to be protected under an international treaty to which the Republic of Seychelles is a party.

(2) The provisions of this Act shall not affect contracts on works, performances, phonograms and broadcasts concluded before the commencement of this Act.

Interpretation

3. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, —

“audio-visual work” means a work that consists of a series of related images which impart the impression of motion, with or without accompanying sounds, susceptible of being made visible, and where accompanied by sounds, susceptible of being made audible;

“author” means the natural person who has created the work;

“broadcasting” means the communication of a work, a performance or a phonogram to the public by wireless transmission, including transmission by satellite;

“circumvent technological protection measures” means to avoid, bypass, remove, deactivate, or impair these measures, including descrambling a scrambled work or object of related right or decrypting an encrypted work or object of related right;

“communication to the public” means the transmission by wire or by wireless means of a other subject-matter protected under this Act from which electronic rights management information has been removed or altered without the authorisation of the rights owner, when such act will induce, enable, facilitate or conceal an infringement of any rights covered by this Act.

(2) Subsection (1) does not prohibit any governmental activities for public policy or security authorised by a written law.

34. The acts prohibited under section 26(3) and sections 32 and 33 shall be deemed to be an infringement of rights protected under this Act, for the purposes of sections 29, 30 and 31.

Prohibited acts deemed to be an infringement of rights

PART VI MISCELLANEOUS

35.(1) The provisions of this Act on the protection of literary and artistic works shall apply to —

Scope of application of copyrights

- (a) works of authors who are nationals of, or have their habitual residence in, Seychelles;
- (b) works first published in Seychelles, and works first published in another country and also published in Seychelles within thirty days, irrespective of the nationality or residence of the authors;
- (c) audio-visual works, the producer of which has his or her headquarters or habitual residence in Seychelles; and
- (d) works of architecture erected in Seychelles and other artistic works incorporated in a building or other structure located in Seychelles.

- (ii) have a limited commercially significant purpose or use other than to circumvent effective technological protection measures; or
- (iii) are primarily designed, produced, adapted or performed for the purpose of enabling or facilitating the circumvention of effective technological protection measures.

(2) Technological protection measures referred to in subsection (1), are “effective” where the use of a work or object of related right protected under this Act is controlled by the rights holder through application of an access control or protection process, such as encryption, scrambling or other transformation of the work or other subject-matter, or a copy control mechanism which, in the normal course of its operation, achieves the protection objective.

(3) Notwithstanding subsection (1), upon the request by the beneficiary of an exception or limitation in accordance with sections 12, 13, 15, 16, 17 or 18, the Registrar or the court, as the case may be, may order that the necessary means be made available to the extent required to benefit from it.

(4) The provisions of subsection (3) shall not apply to works or other subject matters made available to the public on agreed contractual terms in such a way that members of the public may access them from a place and at a time individually chosen by them.

Protection of rights
management information

33.(1) It is prohibited to —

- (a) remove or alter any electronic rights management information without the consent of the rights holder, or

PART II COPYRIGHTS

Works
protected

4.(1) Literary and artistic works (hereinafter referred to as “works”) are original intellectual creations in the literary and artistic domain, including in particular —

- (a) books, pamphlets, articles and other writings;
- (b) speeches, lectures, addresses, sermons and other oral works;
- (c) dramatic, dramatico-musical works, pantomimes, choreographic works and other works created for stage productions;
- (d) musical works, with or without accompanying words;
- (e) audio-visual works;
- (f) works of architecture;
- (g) works of drawing, painting, sculpture, engraving, lithography, tapestry and other works of fine art;

- (d) cases where, under Part II, a work can be used without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright.

PART IV VOLUNTARY REGISTRATION OF COPYRIGHTS

28.(1) The President may, by notice in the Gazette, appoint a Registrar of Copyrights who shall cause a Copyrights Register to be established and maintained.

Voluntary registration of copyrights

(2) The owner of the copyright in a work may apply to the Registrar for registration of the copyright in such manner and with such fee and other documentation or information as may be prescribed by regulation.

(3) If the Registrar is satisfied that the applicant is the owner of the copyright in the work the Registrar shall register him or her in the Copyright Register as the registered owner of that registered copyright.

(4) Where a person claims that he or she and not the registered owner is the owner of a registered copyright, he may apply to the Supreme Court to be registered as owner in the Copyright Register in place of the then registered owner.

(5) Without prejudice to this section or to any question or action about whether copyright subsists in the work, only the registered owner is deemed for the purposes of this Act to be the owner of a registered copyright.

(6) The registered owner of a registered copyright may register in the Copyright Register any agreement, contract, assignment, licence or document relating to or dealing with the registered copyright.

(7) An agreement, contract, assignment, licence or document relating to or dealing with a registered copyright is admissible in evidence in a criminal trial or proceeding, notwithstanding that it is not registered under subsection (1).

Rights of broadcasting organisations

26.(1) A broadcasting organisation shall have the exclusive right to carry out or to authorise any of the following acts —

- (a) the rebroadcasting of its broadcast;
- (b) the communication to the public of its broadcast;
- (c) the fixation of its broadcast; or
- (d) the reproduction of a fixation of its broadcast.

(2) The rights under this section shall be protected from the moment when the broadcasting takes place until the end of the fiftieth calendar year following the year in which the broadcast takes place.

(3) Any program-carrying signals transmitted by satellite which are not intended for direct reception by the public, but for simultaneous or subsequent broadcasting or cable distribution by an authorised receiving organisation, may not be broadcast or communicated to the public by any person without authorisation of the person or legal entity that decided what program the emitted signal would carry.

Limitations on protection

27. Sections 23, 24, 25 and 26 shall not apply where, without commercial advantage, the acts referred to in those sections are related to —

- (a) using short excerpts for reporting current events to the extent justified by the purpose of providing current information;
- (b) reproduction solely for scientific research;
- (c) reproduction solely for the purpose of face-to-face or distance teaching activities, except for performances and phonograms which have been published as teaching or instructional materials; or

- (h) photographic works;
- (i) works of applied art;
- (j) computer programs; and
- (k) illustrations, maps, plans, sketches and three-dimensional works relative to geography, topography, architecture or science.

(2) Works shall be protected, when they are fixed or otherwise reduced to material form, irrespective of their mode or form of expression or their content, quality or purpose.

5.(1) The following shall also be protected as works —

Derivative
works

- (a) translations, adaptations, arrangements and other transformations or modifications of works or traditional cultural expressions or expressions of folklore; and
- (b) collections of works, collections of data (databases), whether in machine readable or other form, and collections of traditional cultural expressions or expressions of folklore, provided that such collections are original by reason of the selection or arrangement of their contents.

(2) The protection of a work referred to in subsection (1) shall be without prejudice to the protection of a pre-existing work or traditional cultural expression or expression of folklore incorporated in or utilised for the making of such work.

6. Notwithstanding the provisions of sections 4 and 5, no protection shall extend under this Act to —

matters not protected

- (a) any idea, procedure, system, method of operation, concept, principle, discovery or mere data, even if expressed, described, explained, illustrated or embodied in a work;

- (b) news of the day or miscellaneous facts having the character of mere items of press information; or
- (c) political speeches and speeches delivered in the course of legal proceedings.

Economic
rights

7.(1) The author or other owner of the copyright shall have the exclusive right to undertake or to authorise the following acts in relation to the work —

- (a) reproduction of the work;
- (b) translation of the work;
- (c) adaptation, arrangement or other transformation of the work;
- (d) distribution of the original or a copy of the work to the public;
- (e) rental of the original or a copy of an audio-visual work, a work embodied in a phonogram or a computer program;
- (f) public performance of the work;
- (g) broadcasting of the work; or
- (h) other communication to the public of the work.

(2) The right of distribution under subsection (1)(d) does not apply to the original or a copy of the work that has already been subject to a sale or other transfer or ownership, in any country or territory, authorised by the owner of copyright.

has already been subject to a sale or other transfer of ownership in a country or territory, other than Seychelles, authorised by the producer.

(3) The rights under subsection (1) shall be protected from the publication of the phonogram until the end of the fiftieth calendar year following the year of publication or, if the phonogram has not been published from the fixation of the phonogram until the end of the fiftieth calendar year, following the year of fixation.

25.(1) If a phonogram published for commercial purposes, or a reproduction of such phonogram, is used directly for broadcasting or other communication to the public, or is publicly performed, a single equitable remuneration for the performer or performers and the producer of the phonogram shall be paid by the user to the producer.

Equitable remuneration for use of phonograms

(2) Unless otherwise agreed between the performers and the producer, half of the amount received by the producer under subsection (1) shall be paid by the producer to the performer or performers.

(3) The right to an equitable remuneration under this section shall subsist from the date of fixation of the performance until the end of the fiftieth calendar year following the year of fixation of the performance, provided that the phonogram is still protected under section 24(3).

(4) For the purposes of this section, phonograms that have been made available to the public by wire or wireless means in such a way that members of the public may access them from a place and at a time individually chosen by them shall be considered as if they have been published for commercial purposes.

(5) Subsection (1) does not apply to the extent that the use of the phonogram is covered by an exclusive right under section 23(1)(f) or section 24(1)(d).

(4) The performer shall, independently of his or her economic rights and even after the transfer of those rights, have the right to claim to be identified as the performer of his or her performances, except where omission is dictated by the manner of the use of the performance, and to object to any distortion, mutilation or other modification of his or her performances that would be prejudicial to his or her reputation.

(5) Any modifications consistent with the normal exploitation of a performance in the course of a use authorised by the performer shall not be considered prejudicial to the performer's reputation and the provisions of section 8 (2) and (3) shall apply, mutatis mutandis, to the rights under this subsection.

(6) The rights under this section shall be protected until the end of the fiftieth calendar year following the year in which the performance took place.

producers

24.(1) A producer of a phonogram shall have the exclusive right to carry out or to authorise any of the following acts —

- (a) the direct or indirect reproduction of the phonogram, in any manner or form;
- (b) the distribution of the original or copies of the phonogram to the public;
- (c) the rental of a copy of the phonogram to the public; or
- (d) the making available to the public of the phonogram, by wire or wireless means, in such a way that members of the public may access it from a place or at a time individually chosen by them.

(2) The right of distribution under subsection (1)(b) shall not apply to the original or the copy of the phonogram that

(3) The right of rental under subsection (1)(e) does not apply to rental of computer programs where the program itself is not the essential object of the rental.

8.(1) The author of a work shall, independently of his or her economic rights, and even where he or she is no longer the owner of the said rights, have the following moral rights —

Moral rights

- (a) to have his or her name indicated prominently on the copies and in connection with any public use of his work, as far as practicable;
- (b) to not have his or her name indicated on the copies and in connection with any public use of his or her work or the right;
- (c) to use a pseudonym; and
- (d) to object to any distortion, mutilation or other modification of, or other derogatory action in relation to his or her work which would be prejudicial to his or her honor or reputation.

(2) The rights mentioned in subsection (1) shall not be transferable during the life of the author, but the right to exercise any of such rights may be transferred by testamentary disposition or by operation of law following the death of the author.

(3) The author may waive any of the moral rights mentioned in subsection (1), provided that such a waiver is in writing and clearly specifies the right or rights waived and the circumstances in which the waiver applies.

(4) The author, while exercising the waiver of the right under subsection (1)(c), shall specify the nature and extent of the modification or other action in respect of which the right is waived.

(5) Upon the death of the author, the natural person or legal entity upon whom or which the moral rights have devolved shall have the right to waive the said rights.

Private
reproduction for personal purposes

9.(1) Subject to the provisions of subsection (2), the private reproduction of a published work in a single copy shall be permitted without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright, where the reproduction is made by a natural person exclusively for his or her own personal purposes.

(2) The provisions of subsection (1) shall not extend to reproduction—

- (a) of a work of architecture in the form of building or other construction;
- (b) in the form of reprography of the whole or of a substantial part of a book or of a musical work in the form of notation;
- (c) of the whole or of a substantial part of a database in digital form;
- (d) of a computer program, except as provided in section 15; and
- (e) of any work in cases where reproduction would conflict with a normal exploitation of the work or would otherwise unreasonably prejudice the legitimate interests of the author or other owner of the copyright.

Temporary
reproduction

10. The temporary reproduction of a work shall be permitted if all the following conditions are met—

- (a) the reproduction is made in the process of a digital transmission of the work or an act of making a digitally stored work perceptible;

(ii) is a rebroadcasting made or authorised by the organisation initially broadcasting the performance;

- (b) the fixation of his or her unfixed performance;
- (c) the direct or indirect reproduction of a fixation of his or her performance, in any manner or form;
- (d) the distribution of a fixation of his or her performance, or of copies thereof, to the public;
- (e) the rental to the public of a fixation of his or her performance, or copies thereof; or
- (f) the making available to the public of his or her fixed performance, by wire or wireless means, in such a way that members of the public may access them from a place or at a time individually chosen by them.

(2) Once the performer has authorised the incorporation of his or her performance in an audio-visual fixation, he or she shall, in the absence of contractual provisions to the contrary, be deemed to have assigned his or her exclusive economic rights with respect to that fixation to its producer and the provisions of subsection (1) shall cease to apply.

(3) The right of distribution under subsection (1)(d) shall not apply to a copy of a fixation of his or her performance that has already been subject to a sale or other transfer of ownership in a country or territory, other than Seychelles, authorised by the performer.

appears on the work shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be presumed to represent the author and, in this capacity, shall be entitled to exercise and enforce the moral and economic rights of the author.

(5) The presumption under subsection (4) shall cease to apply when the author reveals his or her identity.

Assignment and licensing of economic rights

22.(1) The economic rights in a work shall be assignable in whole or in part.

(2) An assignment of an economic right, and any exclusive licence to do an act subject to authorisation by the author or other owner of copyright, shall be in writing signed by the assignor and the assignee, or by the licensor and the licensee.

(3) An assignment in whole or in part of any economic right, or a licence to do an act subject to authorisation by the author or other owner of copyright, shall not include or be deemed to include the assignment or license of any other rights not explicitly referred to therein.

PART III PROTECTION OF PERFORMERS, PRODUCERS OF PHONOGRAMS AND BROADCASTING ORGANISATIONS

Rights of performers

23.(1) A performer shall have the exclusive right to carry out or to authorise any of the following acts —

- (a) the broadcasting or other communication to the public of his or her performance, except where the broadcasting or the other communication —
 - (i) is made from a fixation of the performance which the performer has authorised to be made; or

- (b) it is caused by a person or entity that, by way of authorisation by the owner of copyright or of operation of law, is entitled to make that transmission or making perceptible of the work; and
- (c) it is an accessory to that transmission or making perceptible, that occurs during the normal operation of the equipment used and entails the automatic deletion of the copy without enabling the retrieval of the work for any other purpose than those, referred to in paragraphs (a) and (b).

11.(1) The quotation from a work that has lawfully been made available to the public shall be permitted without authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright, provided that the quotation is compatible with fair practice and does not exceed the extent justified by the purpose.

Quotation

(2) The quotation shall be accompanied by an indication of source and the name of the author, if the name appears in the source from which the quotation is taken.

12.(1) The following acts shall be permitted without authorisation of the author, or other owner of copyright —

Reproduction and other utilisation for teaching

- (a) the utilisation by way of illustration for the purposes of teaching or scientific research of a work that has lawfully been made available to the public, in publications, broadcasting or sound or visual recordings, provided that such utilisation is compatible with fair practice and does not exceed the extent justified by the purpose;
- (b) the utilisation by way of making available of such works in computer networks, provided that access to the works is only available to enrolled pupils or students and their teachers;

- (c) the reprographic reproduction, for face-to-face teaching in educational institutions the activities of which do not serve direct or indirect commercial gain, of published articles, other short works or short extracts of works, to the extent justified by the purpose, provided that —
- (i) the reproduction of any particular work is an isolated act occurring, if repeated, on separate and unrelated occasions;
- (ii) not more than a single copy for each pupil or student and the teacher is made; and
- (iii) there is no collective licence available (that is, offered by a collective administration organisation of which the educational institution is or should be aware) under which such reproduction can be made.

(2) The source of the work and the name of the author shall be indicated as far as practicable on all copies made under subsection (1) or otherwise in reasonable connection with the work.

13. A library or archive whose activities do not serve direct or indirect gain may, without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright, make a single copy of a work —

- (a) by reprographic reproduction where the work reproduced is a published article, other short work or short extract of a work, and where the purpose of the reproduction is to satisfy the request of a person, provided that —

(2) In respect of a work of joint authorship, the co-authors shall be the original owners of the economic rights.

(3) In case a work of joint authorship consists of parts that can be used separately and the author of each part can be identified, the author of each part shall be the original owner of the economic rights in the part that he or she has created.

(4) In respect of a work created by an author, employed by a natural person or legal entity, in the course of his or her employment, the original owner of the economic rights shall be, unless provided otherwise in a contract, the employer.

(5) In respect of an audio-visual work, the original owner of the economic rights shall be the producer, unless provided otherwise in a contract.

(6) The co-authors of the audio-visual work and the authors of the pre-existing works included in or adapted for the making of the audio-visual work shall, continue to hold economic rights in their contributions or pre-existing works, respectively, to the extent that those contributions or pre-existing works can be subject of acts covered by their economic rights separately from the audio-visual work.

21.(1) The natural person whose name is indicated as the author on a work in the usual manner shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be presumed to be the author of the work.

(2) The provision of subsection (1) shall apply even if the name is a pseudonym, where the pseudonym leaves no doubt as to the identity of the author.

(3) The person whose name appears on an audio-visual work in the usual manner shall, in the absence of proof to the contrary, be presumed to be the producer of the work.

(4) In the case of an anonymous or pseudonymous work, subject to subsection (2), the publisher whose name

Presumption of authorship, producers of audio-visual works and publishers

Use for public security and for performance or reporting of proceedings

18. A work may be used for the purposes of public security and to ensure the proper performance or reporting of administrative, parliamentary or judicial proceedings.

Duration of copyright

19.(1) The economic and moral rights shall be protected during the life of the author and for fifty years after his or her death.

(2) In the case of a work of joint authorship, the economic and moral rights shall be protected during the life of the last surviving author and for fifty years after his or her death.

(3) In the case of an audio-visual work, the economic and moral rights shall be protected for fifty years from the date on which the work was made or first made available to the public by publication or by any other means, whichever date is the latest.

(4) In the case of a work published anonymously or under a pseudonym, the economic and moral rights shall be protected for fifty years from the date on which the work was made or first made available to the public, by publication or by any other means whichever date is the latest, provided that where the identity of the author is revealed or is no longer in doubt before the expiration of the said period, the provisions of subsection (1) or subsection (2), as the case may be, shall apply.

(5) In the case of a work of applied art, the economic and moral rights shall be protected for twenty-five years from the making of the work.

(6) The period provided for under subsections (1) to (5) shall run to the end of the calendar year in which it would otherwise expire.

Original ownership of economic rights

20.(1) Subject to the provisions of subsections (2) to (6), the original owner of economic rights in respect of a work is the author who has created the work.

(i) the library or archive is satisfied that the copy will be used solely for the purposes of study, scholarship or private research;

(ii) the reproduction of any particular work is an isolated act occurring, if repeated, on separate and unrelated occasions; and

(iii) there is no collective license available offered by a collective copyright management organisation under which such copies can be made; or for part of a work that is to say one volume of work;

(b) where the copy is made in order to preserve and, if necessary, replace a copy, or to replace a copy which has been lost, destroyed, or rendered unusable in the permanent collection of another similar library or archive, provided that it is impossible to obtain such a copy under reasonable conditions, and the reproduction of such particular work is an isolated act occurring, if repeated, on separate and unrelated occasions.

14. The following acts shall be permitted in respect of a work without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright, subject to the obligation to indicate the source and the name of the author as far as practicable—

(a) the reproduction in a newspaper or periodical, the broadcasting or other communication to the public, of an article published in a newspaper or periodical on current economic, political or religious topics or a broadcast work of the same character; this permission shall not apply where the right to authorize reproduction,

Reproduction, broadcasting and other communication to public for informatory purposes broadcasting or other communication to the public is expressly reserved on the copies by the author or other owner of copyright, or in connection with broadcasting or other communication to the public of the work;

- (b) for the purpose of reporting current events, the reproduction and the broadcasting or other communication to the public of short excerpts of a work seen or heard in the course of such events, to the extent justified by the purpose; or
- (c) the reproduction in a newspaper or periodical, the broadcasting or other communication to the public of a lecture, address, sermon or other work of a similar nature delivered in public, to the extent justified by the purpose of providing current information.

15.(1) The reproduction, in a single copy, or the adaptation of a computer program by the lawful owner of a copy of that computer program shall be permitted without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright, provided that the copy or adaptation is necessary —

- (a) for use of the computer program with a computer for the purpose and extent for which the computer program has been obtained; or
- (b) for archival purposes and for the replacement of the lawfully owned copy of the computer program in the event that the said copy of the computer program is lost, destroyed or rendered unusable.

Reproduction
and adaptation of computer
programs

(2) No copy or adaptation of a computer program shall be used for any purpose other than those specified in subsection (1), and any such copy or adaptation shall be destroyed in the event that continued possession of the copy of the computer program ceases to be lawful.

16.(1) It shall be permitted without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright to reproduce a published work for visually impaired persons in an alternative manner or form which enables their perception of the work, and to distribute the copies exclusively to such persons, provided that the work is not reasonably available in an identical or largely equivalent form enabling its perception by the visually impaired and the reproduction and distribution are made on a non-profit basis.

Visually
impaired
persons

(2) The distribution of work referred to in subsection (1) is also permitted in case the copies of such work have been made abroad and the conditions mentioned in that subsection have been fulfilled.

(3) The provisions in subsections (1) and (2) are subject to the obligation to indicate the source and the name of the author.

17.(1) A broadcasting organisation may make, without the authorisation of the author or other owner of copyright, for the purpose of its own broadcasts and by means of its own facilities, an ephemeral recording of any work which it is authorised to broadcast.

Ephemeral
recordings

(2) All copies referred to in subsection (1) shall be destroyed within six months of the making or within any longer term agreed to by the author.

(3) Where the recording of a work referred to in subsection (1) has an exceptional documentary character, one copy of such recording may be preserved in official archives.
