from the rest of the world, and the US producers.³⁶⁸ The value of US imports from China simulated under the second step corresponds to the counterfactual value of US imports from China.

7.46. We then estimate the level of nullification or impairment concerning the anti-dumping orders at issue by calculating, for each order, the difference between the 2017 value of US imports from China, simulated under the first step, and the counterfactual value of US imports from China, simulated under the second step.

7.47. The table below presents the level of nullification or impairment estimated for each antidumping order at issue by applying the Armington model in two steps, as well as the total estimated level of nullification or impairment.

8 CONCLUSION

8.1. For the reasons set out above, we determine that the level of nullification or impairment of benefits accruing to China as a result of the WTO-inconsistent methodologies used by the United States in anti-dumping proceedings concerning products imported from China is 3,579.128 million USD per annum. Therefore, in accordance with Article 22.4 of the DSU, China may request authorization from the DSB to suspend concessions or other obligations at a level not exceeding 3,579.128 million USD per annum.
