

Felipe Muñoz Pérez is the Coordinator for Administration and Supply of the Immunization Department of the Health Ministry of Chile. He graduated from the University of Chile as a commercial engineer. Currently, he is a master student in Health Administration at the Catholic University of Chile. He has over 10 years of experience in the field and among his main contributions include leading the development of supply plans for the regular vaccination plan, annual campaigns, health emergencies and the inclusion of new vaccination strategies in the Nacional Immunization Program of Chile.

During the pandemic, the work he contributed to carry out the planning, coordination and logistic implementation of the vaccination campaign of COVID-19. His main functions were linked to the technical supply, logistic and financial areas in the field of vaccines and supplies, under the direction of Dr. Cecilia González Caro, head of the Immunization Department of the Health Ministry of Chile.

