CONSULTATION WITH PORTUGAL - IMPORT SURCHARGES

Basic Document for the Consultation¹

1. Legal and administrative basis of the import measures

Trade control policy is formulated and implemented by the Ministry of Commerce and Tourism.

All imports, valued at over Esc 5 million, and all exports, valued at over Esc 2.5 million, are subject to the Foreign Trade Control Committee, in order to check eventual over - or under - invoicing.

Practically all foreign trade transactions are subject to prior registration with the Ministry of Commerce and Tourism, on the basis of a "bulletin".

Import and export "bulletins" are issued by a specific department within the Directorate-General for Foreign Trade or by any other duly authorized executive departments.

Prior registration (in the form of an import "bulletin") is required for all imports valued at over Esc 5,000 and, for certain goods, even if invoice values are under Esc 5,000.

Any physical or juridical entity may be an importer. Importers must be duly authorized and must pay income taxes regularly.

For imports free of quantitative restriction, the "bulletin" has a statistical purpose and enables the importer to obtain the necessary foreign exchange, as specified therein.

For imports subject to quantitative restrictions, the "bulletin" is equivalent to an import licence.

2. Methods used in restricting imports

(a) Residual restrictions

GATT liberalization is applied to goods not included in the so-called negative list (document GATT L/2981/Add.14, 25 July 1968), when imported from member GATT countries.

Non-liberalized imports from member GATT countries are subject to individual authorization.

There are bilateral quotas for specified agricultural imports from certain EFTA countries.

Imports of non-liberalized industrial products, except certain protected steel products and automobiles, are free of restriction, when originating in EFTA or EEC countries.

Special legislation provides that automobiles must be assembled in Portugal.

Imports of passenger automobiles are allowed up to 15 units per producer per year for those makes not assembled in Portugal and, for the other makes, up to 2 per cent of the number of passenger automobiles of the same make assembled in Portugal during the preceding year.

Imports of passenger automobiles of EFTA origin are allowed up to 150 units a year and imports of some makes of EEC origin are allowed, up to 215 units a year, for each producer until 31 December 1977; as from 1 January 1978, 280 units will be allowed.

Imports of commercial vehicles for special purposes are free of restrictions.

Imports of completely-knocked-down (CKD) vehicles from EFTA and EEC countries are free of restrictions, and allocations of imports from other GATT countries are available under special open licences and subject to the use of certain minimum percentages of domestic components.

All imports from non-member GATT countries are based on individual authorization. Equal treatment is granted to all imports from countries which are not parties to bilateral or multilateral agreements.

(b) Other restrictions

Import surcharge

In May 1975, a system of 20 and 30 per cent import surcharges intended to remain in force until 31 December 1975, was introduced. Subsequently, it was extended, with some modifications, until 31 March 1976 (document GATT L/4185/Add.1).

As from 31 March 1975, a new extension of this system, introducing into it considerable modifications which reduced its restrictiveness has been in force.

By Decree-Law 720-B/76 of 9 October 1976, and Decree-Law 779/76 of 28 October 1976, this measure was subject to a new revision, its application having been extended until 31 March 1977. A new prorogation until 31 December 1977, has been in force.

By Decree-Law 720-B/76, the surcharge of 20 per cent was raised to 30 per cent, being levied on most of the goods covered by this measure. A surcharge of 60 per cent covering a group of less essential or superfluous goods initially subject to the 30 per cent surcharge was introduced and, by Law 34/77 of 6 June 1977, was extended to a new group of goods (document GATT L/4568).

Import deposit scheme

An import deposit scheme was established by Decree-Law 720-C/76 of 9 October 1976. Within eight days after the obtention of the "bulletin", the importer must deposit in a credit institution, during a period of 180 days, an amount corresponding to 50 per cent of the c.i.f. value of the goods.

The surcharge and the import deposit scheme are applied to all listed goods, regardless of their origin.

Import quota system

According to Decree-Law 720-A/76, of 9 October 1976, and if the deterioration of the situation of the balance of payments became very serious, an import quota system, covering less essential or superfluous goods, could be introduced.

In accordance with the above-mentioned authorization, an import quota system for 1977 for some consumer goods (Government Orders Nos. 99-A/77 of 28 February and 365-A/77 of 18 June) as well as an import quota system for completely-knocked-down (CKD) motor vehicles having a kerb weight up to 2,000 kgs. (Government Orders Nos. 70/77 of 12 February 1977 and 446/77 of 20 July 1977) were established.

3. Treatment of imports from different sources including information on the operation of bilateral agreements

Portuguese foreign trade policy is based on the principle of non-discrimination, and imports from GATT member countries are treated on a most-favoured-nation basis.

Authorities do not interfere in the choice of supply sources.

There are no bilateral agreements with non-GATT countries providing for more favourable treatment than the one granted to GATT members.

4. Commodities, or groups of commodities, affected by the various forms of import restrictions

(a) Residual restrictions

Goods listed on the negative list (document GATT L/2981/Add.14).

(b) Other restrictions

Import surcharge

An integrated list of goods subject to the 30 per cent surcharge is included in Annex I.

An integrated list of goods subject to the 50 per cent surcharge is included in Annex II.

Import deposit scheme

Goods subject to the import deposit scheme are listed in Decree-Law 720-C/76 of 9 October 1976 (document GATT L/4433/Add.2 and Corr.1).

Import quota system

The list of consumer goods subject to the import quota system is included in Government Order No. 99-A/77 (document GATT L/4568/Add.1).

The list of completely-knocked-down (CKD) motor vehicles having a kerb weight up to 2,000 kgs. is included in Government Order No. 73/77 (document GATT L/4568/Add.2).

The surcharge, the import deposit scheme and the import quota system are applied without any discrimination.

5. State-trading or governmental monopoly, used as a measure to restrict imports for balance-of-payments reasons

Some agricultural products (e.g. codfish; cereals such as corn, wheat, barley, maize, rye, etc.; oleaginous seeds; olive oil; potatoes and other vegetables; citrus fruit; raw sugar; milk, butter; cheese; meat and edible offals etc.) are imported by specified public agencies.

These agencies estimate needs for public supply according to home production and arrange, without discrimination, for external purchases from sources granting them the best conditions of price and quality.

State trading is not used for the purpose of restricting imports.

6. Measures taken since last consultation, in relaxing or otherwise modifying import restrictions

The import surcharge established on 31 May 1975, was revised and prorogated until 31 December 1977 (document GATT L/4185).

To the relevant revisions introduced on 31 March 1976 concerning products subject to the surcharge scheme as well as the surcharges' levels - the previous surcharge of 20 per cent was raised to a 30 per cent level and a new level of 60 per cent was established for some products previously subject to the 30 per cent level - was added the extension of the list of products subject to this new level of 60 per cent, by the inclusion of a new group of less essential goods previously submitted to the 30 per cent surcharge.

Rates of coverage, related to 1975 and 1976, of the import surcharge scheme presently in force are included in Tables I and VI.

No alterations have been introduced in the import deposit scheme. Rates of coverage of this scheme, related to 1975 and 1976, are included in Table II.

In what concerns the import quota system, rates of coverage, related to 1975 and 1976, are shown in Table III.

On the other hand, Table IV shows the intercepted rates of coverage of the consumer goods import quota system with the other restrictive measures still in force.

Rates of coverage, related to 1974, 1975 and 1976, of completely-knocked-down vehicles subject to an import quota system are included in Table V.

7. Effects of import restrictions on trade

The maintenance of difficulties at the external payments level and, on the other hand, the scarce contractive effects obtained from the establishment of the initial rates of the import surcharge (Table VII) deemed necessary the reinforcement of the restrictive import scheme already in force in order to obtain better results in the contraction of imports. However, the intensification of the surcharge scheme and the establishment of a compulsory previous import deposit did not produce any effects during 1976, the impact of these measures having been recorded mainly in 1977: in fact, during the first six months of 1977 imports of products subject to the 60 per cent surcharge showed, in value, lower growth rates than those registered in total imports.

Nevertheless, the more significant effects registered in imports of products subject to the 60 per cent surcharge which in volume, no doubt, decreased during the first six months of this year, cannot be accounted for as a direct effect of the import surcharge scheme but rather as a result of the conjugation of several other measures - internal and commercial measures (import deposit and import quota system) which have been cumulatively set on imports of some products.

8. During 1977 a strong recovery of home production was registered (which is expected to grow, in real terms, at a rate of about 6 per cent), this recovery being essentially induced by the growth of investment. Due to the weak development of exports and since Portugal has no raw materials and produces few equipment goods, the increase in investment implied a considerable trade deficit.

Current invisibles registered strong increases in tourism receipts and emigrants' remittances though these were not yet sufficient to avoid a still negative balance of the current transactions, this negative balance being of a similar amount as the one registered in 1976 (about US$1,200 million).

In what concerns unemployment there might not have been an aggravation but neither were there any significant improvements but rather productivity gains during the present year.

In the field of prices, consumer prices are expected to register, on an annual basis, an approximate 27 per cent increase, although it should be stressed that since May very small increases have been observed.

The fundamental problem of the Portuguese economy continues to be the situation of the balance of payments, thus justifying that the primary aim of the economic policy for 1977 is the reduction of the balance-of-payments deficit. In order to succeed in such a reduction it has been deemed necessary to implement a stabilization policy which will necessarily be restrictive. Contraction of the balance-of-payments deficit will be attained through an adequate overall economic policy being, however, necessary to maintain, on a temporary basis, some direct import restrictions. However, these restrictive import measures comprise only a small part of total imports and will be gradually lessened and finally abolished.
