Group on Residual Restrictions

INFORMATION ON ADDITIONAL PRODUCTS SUGGESTED FOR EXAMINATION

Note by the Secretariat

Revision

1. At its seventeenth session in January 1971, the Committee on Trade and Development agreed that in addition to continuing to seek possibilities for the removal of restrictions on the twenty-one products or product groups already examined by it, the Group on Residual Restrictions should take up other products identified as of export interest to the developing countries in the Group and in the Joint Working Group on Import Restrictions.

2. In connexion with earlier meetings of the Group, the secretariat had already provided background information containing trade data and details of import restrictions on the twenty-one products or product groups selected for priority attention (COM.TD/W/105, COM.TD/W/107 and COM/TD/W/118/Rev.1). In Annex I similar information together with details of import duties is provided on an additional thirty products in which developing countries indicated an interest in the Joint Working Group on Import Restrictions. It has been thought useful to identify separately in the annex those products which are covered by the Generalized System of Preferences for developing countries.

3. Annex II relates to certain conclusions reached in the last meeting of the Group held in October 1970 which were subsequently endorsed by the Committee on Trade and Development.

ANNEX II

Group on Residual Restrictions

(paragraph 10 of COM.TD/79 - note on proceedings of meeting 22-23 October 1970)

At its meeting in October 1970, the Group on Residual Restrictions recommended that in moves towards complete liberalization, developed countries in contemplating positive measures for immediate action, should endeavour to modify restrictions in a liberal direction by considering the possibilities of using the following measures:

(i) applying restrictions only seasonally,

(ii) increasing global quotas,

(iii) removing restrictions where quotas are applied and no imports take place,

(iv) adopting measures designed to enable new exporters from developing countries to have a share in the market,

(v) removing restrictions on imports of products whether in primary or processed form which were produced exclusively in developing countrie

Some members suggested that governments should give careful consideration to:

(i) relying on tariff measures only,

(ii) removing quantitative restrictions on products likely to be excluded from the generalized scheme of preferences.
