Agricultural Policies

Addendum

BULGARIA

The basic objectives of Bulgaria's agrarian policy are to increase productivity and raise the standard of living of agricultural workers as well as to improve agriculture. To achieve these ends the following measures are employed: the economic machinery of agricultural management is being perfected; agrarian production is being intensified; new scientific achievements are being introduced; there is concentration and specialization of agriculture, coupled with the application of chemical and industrial processes; and stock farming is being developed at an accelerated pace.
