ARTICLE XXV:5 (WAIVER POWER)

Note by the Secretariat

1. As requested by the Negotiating Group on GATT Articles, the Secretariat has prepared the following background note on Article XXV:5, the provision which gives the CONTRACTING PARTIES the power to waive obligations under the General Agreement. The note analyzes the scope of the waiver power (Part I), the relation between Article XXV:5 and other provisions of the General Agreement (Part II) and the waivers granted by the CONTRACTING PARTIES (Part III). A list of the waivers granted since 1948 is contained in the Annex to the note.

I. SCOPE OF THE WAIVER POWER

A general wafver power was provided for in the United States 1946 "Suggested Charter for an International Trade Organization" (Article 55:2), the Havana Charter for an International Trade Organization (Article 77:3) and in the various drafts of the General Agreement (for instance Article XXII of the New Work draft, EPCT/34/Rev.1, p. 78). The waiver power given to the CONTRACTING PARTIES in Article XXV:5 of the General Agreement is defined as follows:
"In exceptional. circumstances not elsewhere provided for in this Agreement, the CONTRACTING PARTIES may waive an obligation imposed upon a contracting party by this Agreement; Provided that any such decision shall be approved by a two-thirds majority of the votes cast and that such majority shall comprise more than half of the contracting parties. The CONTRACTING PARTIES may also by such a vote
(i) define certain categories of exceptional circumstances to which other voting requirements shall apply for the waiver of obligations, and
(ii) prescribe such criteria as may be necessary for the application of this paragraph".

It was agreed among the drafters that the waiver power should apply to all obligations (London Report, p. 22). A GATT Working Party confirmed this interpretation in 1953:
"The Working Party is of the view that the text of paragraph 5(a) of Article XXV is general in character; it allows the CONTRACTING PARTIES to waive any obligations imposed spon the contracting parties by the Agreement in exceptional circumstances not provided for in the Agreement, and places no limitations on the exercise of that right. In this connection, the Working Party noted that the report of the First Session of the Preparatory Committee of the Havana Conference, referred to in the statement of the Czechoslovak representative, states with respect to the analogous provision of the Charter that 'it was finally agreed that all the obligations undertaken by members ... should come within the purview of this general provision'. The Report does not contain any other agreed statement on the scope of the Article" (BISD 1s/2).

At the Tenth Session, the representative of one contracting party put forward his Government's objections to the granting of waivers from obligations under Part I of the General Agreement. The Intersessional Comittee considered the matter on the basis, inter alia, of a note by the Secretariat ( $L / 403$ ) and in its report ( $L / 532$ ) recommended that the CONTRACTING PARTIES should affirm their intention to proceed with caution in considering requests for a waiver from obligations in Part I or from other important obligations of the Agreement, and to take appropriate measures to safeguard the interests of contracting parties. In response to this recommendation the CONTRACTING PARTIES took in 1956 the following decision:

> ARTICLE XXV - GUIDING PRINCIPLES TO BE > FOLLOWED BY THE CONTRACTING PARTIES IN > CONSIDERING APPLICATIONS FOR WAIVERS FROM > PART I OR OTHER IMPORTANT OBLIGATIONS OF THE AGREEMENT

Procedures adopted on 1 November 1956
(a) Applications for waivers from Part I or other important obligations of the General Agreement should be considered only if submitted with at least thirty days' notice. It is recognized, however, that in exceptional cases calling for urgent action this requirement may, by general agreement, be relaxed.
(b) In the interval afforded by such notice, the applicant contracting party should give full consideration to representations made to it by other contracting parties and engage in full consultation with them.
(c) The CONTRACTING PARTIES when examining an application should give careful consideration to any representations that such consultations had proved unsatisfactory, and in general should not grant an application in cases where they are not satisfied that the legitimate interests of other contracting parties are adequately safeguarded.
(d) Any decision granting a waiver should include procedures for future consultation on specific action taken under the waiver and, where appropriate, for arbitration by the CONTRACTING PARTIES or through appropriate intersessional machinery if the matter should arise while the CONTRACTING PARTIES are not in session.
(e) Any such decision should also provide for an annual report and, where appropriate, for an annual review of the operation of the waíver.

I'he CONTRACTING PARTIES have never defined the terms "in exceptional circumstances" in Article XXV:5; however some working parties established to examine waiver requests referred to them.

The Working Party report, adopted in 1970, on "Greece - Preferential Tariff Quotas to the USSR" states:
"The Working Party, with the exception of one member, expressed serious concern over the action taken by Greece which had led it to request a waiver from its obligations under Article $I$. The members concerned considered that the question of principle and precedent was of utmost importance. While expressing sympathy for and understanding the difficulties encountered by Greece, they were not convinced that exceptional circumstances as required under Article XXV:5 existed and therefore were opposed to granting of a waiver. In their view, Greece should consider terminating the Special Protocol or extending the tariff concessions on a most-favoured-nation basis, at an early date." (BISD 18S/179).

The Working Party report, adopted in 1984 , on "United States Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act" records the following views:
"Some members stated that in their view the exceptional circumstances referred to in paragraph 5 of Article XXV had not been established. A deviation from the m.f.n. principle on the basis of geographical and non-economic considerations had to be well justified. These members considered that compliance with the criteria specified in paragraph 3 of the Enabling Clause was per se not sufficient to warrant the granting of a waiver. One member noted that the CONTRACTING PARTIES had not defined what constituted the exceptional circumstances referred to in Article XXV:5 and that each contracting party would consider the question individually when deciding how to vote on the proposed waiver. The representative of the United States said that the exceptional circumstances fustifying the waiver were basically economic and legal: (i) the economic recovery of the fragile economies of the region required trade policies aimed at achieving sustained investment and growth rates, and (ii) the CBERA established a programme not covered by the provisions of the Enabling Clause, though consistent with its objectives, which required a GATT framework". (BISD 31S/189).

II. THE RELATION BETWEEN ARTICLE XXV:5 AND OTHER PROVISIONS OF THE GENERAL AGREEMENT

A. Relationship between Articles XXV:5 and XXX

In the Review Working Party II at the Ninth Session in 1955, the representative of Cuba asked for a legal opinion as to whether the CONTRACTING PARTIES could grant, by the majority specified in paragraph 5 (a) of Article XXV, a waiver from obligations which a contracting party has assumed under Part I of the Agreement even though Article XXX required for an amendment of these obligations the acceptance by all contracting parties. (BISD 3S/208). The Executive Secretary expressed the opinion that the CONTRACTING PARTIES could grant such a waiver by a two-thirds majority. The considerations which had led the Executive Secretary to this interpretation were subsequently presented in a Secretariat note ( $\mathrm{L} / 409$ ). The note refers, inter alia, to the following arguments:

"In the absence of any other qualification the words 'may waive an obligation' (Article XXV:5(a)) must refer to any obligation under the Agreement. If the drafters had intended this power to be limited to Parts II and III of the Agreement it would have been a simple matter to include such a qualification. This was not done."
"The phrase 'Except where provision for modification is made elsewhere ...' (Article XXX:1) provides a clear exception for action taken under the provisions of Article XXV:5(a), for -
(i) if the waiver of an obligation in Part $I$ is not considered to represent a 'modification' it can hardly be a change that would require the application of the amendment procedure; and
(ii) if such a waiver is considered to be a 'modification', this phrase provides an explicit exception from the unanimity requirement for amendment for Part I."
"The report of the First Session of the Preparatory Committee for the ITO shows that the application of the waiver provision to all the provisions of the Charter was not accidental but the result of careful deliberation (see the discussion recorded in the report of the First Session on page 22)".
"In the Tariff Agreement Committee there was a lengthy discussion on the unanimity provision in the new amendment article and its relationship to those other provisions under which obligations in Part I might be modified without a unanimous vote. This discussion is recorded on pp. 4-33 of document E/PC/T/TAC/PV/15. ... the discussion that took place shows that the Committee was well aware of the possible effect of the unanimity provision on other provisions in the Agreement and adopted the exception in Article XXX specifically to prevent any conflict from arising."
"The CONTRACTING PARTIES have previously considered the issue discussed in this memorandum and have decided that the waiver provisions of Article XXV do apply to Part I of the Agreement."
"From the above analysis it appears -
(a) that the CONTRACTING PARTIES intentionally made a distinction in the Agreement between an amendment and a waiver granted in exceptional circumstances;
(b) that they made an effort to avoid the possibility of conflict between Article XXX and other Articles by writing an exception in Article XXX;
(c) that they explicitly decided that the provisions of Article XXV:5(a) may be applied to any obligation under the Agreement; and
(d) that they have, in many cases, granted waivers of obligations of Part I by less than a unanimous vote."
B. Relationship between Article XXV:5 and the "Enabling Clause"

In its reques; for a waiver for the Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act (CBERA) the United States referred to footnote 2 of paragraph 2 of the "Enabling Clause" (BISD 26S/203) and Article XXV:5. (L/5573). In reply to a question, the reference to the Enabling Clause was explained by the United States as follows:
"The United States has interpreted 'the GATT provisions for joint action' in footnote 2 of paragraph 2 of the Enabling Clause as referring to provisions of the GATT, including the general waiver provision contained in paragraph 5 of Article XXV which deals with joint action by contracting parties. It was for this reason that the United States cited both footnote 2 of paragraph 2 of the Enabling Clause and paragraph 5 of Article XXV in its waiver request." (L/5620)

The 1984 Working Party report, adopted in 1984 , on the United States Caribbean Basin Economic Recovery Act notes:
"At the request of the Working Party, the representative of the secretariat described the secretariat's understanding of the meaning of footnote 2 of paragraph 2 of the Enabling Clause. In brief, the Enabling Clause provided authority or cover only for the kinds of preferential treatment described therein. Footnote 2 of paragraph 2 of the Enabling Clause recognized that there could be other situations involving preferential treatment not falling within the scope of paragraph 2 which the CONTRACTING PARTIES might wish to cover under the GATT provisions for joint action. The provisions in question could not be those of Part IV, including Article XXXVIII thereof, as these did not provide authority for preferential treatment. The joint action envisaged had to be in terms of paragraph 5 of Article XXV irrespective of wiether this was specifically mentioned or not" (BISD 31S/189).
C. Relationship between Article XXV:5 and XXIII

Some waiver decisions explicitly declare "that this Decision shall not preclude the right of affected contracting parties to have recourse to the appropriate provisions of Article XXIII" (see e.g. BISD 3S/32, 35; $85 / 31,33$ ). Other waiver decisions include special consultation and dispute settlement provisions without explicit reference to Article XXIII (see, e.g. BISD 7S/37, 39; 8S/29, 31; 10S/51, 53).

III. THE WAIVERS GRANTED BY THE CONTRACTING PARTIES

The CONTRACTING PARTIES have taken so far 61 decisions with an explicit reference to Article XXV:5. These decisions are listed in the Annex.

Some decisions of the CONTRACTING PARTIES do not indicate the legal basis on which they are taken. For instance, the 1968 decision of the CONTRACTING PARTIES on the Trade Expansion and Economic Co-operation Agreement between India, the United Arab Republic and Yugoslavia does not state on which legal basis the permission to implement the Agreement notwithstanding the provisions of Article I:l was granted (BISD 16S/17). In the Working Party which examined this Agreement the representatives of the participating countries took the view that the Arrangement was consistent with Part IV of the General Agreement while other representatives considered that Part IV did not override the obligations in the other parts of the General Agreement and that a waiver was therefore required (BISD 16S/87). The fact that Article XXV:5 was not mentioned in the decision reserved the contracting parties' positions on this point. This decision and other cases in which the CONTRACTING FARTIES waived obligations without an explicit reference to Article XXV:5 are not listed in the Annex.

MTN.GNG/NG7/W/1.8

Of the 61 waivers listed in the Annex, 57 were granted to individual. contracting parties and 4 to a defined group of contracting parties. In most cases, the CONTRACTING PARTIES waived obligations under Article I (22 cases) or Article II (28 cases) or both Articles I and II (2 cases). The only other provisions covered by waivers were Article XI (5 cases) and Article XV (4 cases). An annual reporting requirement was included in 24 cases. In 45 cases the CONTRACTING PARTIES fixed an expiry date. Of these waivers all but 5 expired. Some waivers, though formally still in force, may in fact no longer be needed by the contracting parties concerned either because the measures covered by the waiver were discontinued or because they are now covered by other decisions of the CONTRACTING PARTIES such as the Enabling Clause.

The CONTRACTING PARTIES have never made use of their power to "define certain categories of exceptional circumstances to which other voting requirements shall apply for the waiver of obligations" (paragraph 5(i)).
