

Sustainable Agriculture

Organized by Paraguay and New Zealand

15 June 2023 16:15-17:45 CET

The event will be held on YouTube and in Room S1 at the WTO Premises

Abstract:

The global community faces an increasing challenge to meet the growing demand for food while ensuring sustainable, efficient, and responsible use of natural resources. This event provides an opportunity for WTO Members to share their experiences in designing and implementing agricultural measures, policies, and best practices that promote sustainable agricultural production.

Through expert presentations and panel discussions, Members will be encouraged to share their diverse experiences, innovative approaches, practical solutions and policy frameworks that aim to ensure sustainable agricultural production and trade.

By fostering this exchange of knowledge and promoting cooperation, the event aims to support WTO Members in their efforts to align agricultural policies with global trade and sustainability goals.

Members are invited to make presentations on the following areas:

- How are Members designing/implementing sustainable agricultural policies in line with WTO rules?
- What elements are taken into account when choosing one policy or measure over another i.e. what trade-offs are there?
- How do policies or measures address all elements of sustainability and environmental principles and commitments?
